Heart Sunday Drive All Set

On Sunday, someone will knock on your door.

Your caller will be one of some 200 workers seeking gifts for the county's Heart Fund — bulwark against the nation's number one killer, heart disease.

The Heart Sunday drive is all ready to roll, now that worker lists have been drawn up for four villages and the ten rural townships in the county.

The drive is scheduled between the hours of 2 and 3 P. M. Sunday, but many of the rural workers will have to start earlier and work later in order to cover their territories.

Completion of the lists for the villages and rural areas of the county was announced Wednesday by Miss Marian Moore, chairman of the fund drive.

Lists for the city were completed last week.

Spearheading the drive in seven of the ten rural townships will be two dozen members of Company M, The National Guard unit here.

The other three townships' drives will be led by members of two subordinate Granges, Fayette and Forest Shade.

Separate drives will be conducted in Bloomingburg, Jeffersonville, Good Hope and Millersville.

Several of the workers will spend the remainder of the time between now and Sunday recruiting additional workers. In some cases, the members of some organizations who will be working will not be known until Sunday.

The workers and their territories:

BLOOMINGBURG — Mrs. Harry Craig, captain; Bloomingburg Y-Town: Ella Winfield, Marilyn Beisland, Betty Meredith, Pats Weaver, Joan Butcher, Jessie Vandyne, Mary Baker, Nancy Owens, Linda Schlichter, Geneva Leach, Carolyn Tumbleson, Frances Oberholzer, Evelyn Vandyne, Sandra Roberts, Donna Mosberger, Marcella Leach, and Roberta Aler.

GOOD HOPE — Mrs. R. B. McCoy, Jr., captain; Methodist Youth Fellowship members.

MILLERSVILLE — Mrs. Harry Hiser, captain; Kathy Allen, Helen Louise Sheeley, Judy Blair, Ruth Ann Sheeley.

PERRY AND GREEN TOWNSHIPS — Robert E. McFadden, captain; Cora Grice, Susan Carson, Hazel Wilson, Beverly Eyre, Lucille Waddie, Geneva Graves, Patricia Payton, Cleo Hoppes and Annalee Smith.

UNION TOWNSHIP — Walter Carman, Eber district captain; T. W. Graves and Charles Burke.

Frank Dill, Wilson district captain; Mrs. Calvin Johnson, Mrs. Herbert C. Cline, Mrs. Vernon Benoit, Mrs. Emerson Carter, Mrs. Kathleen Dolph and Mrs. Beryl Cavine.

Robert Goodson, Chaffin district captain. (Please turn to page two)

Open Nights For Greenfield Stores Shifted

Starting next month most of the stores in Greenfield are going to remain open on Friday nights and close on Saturday nights.

The decision to shift from the traditional Saturday night open hours was reached at a meeting of 29 merchants and other business people in the Town Hall.

This same question has been discussed by Washington C. H. merchants several times during the last two years at meetings of the Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, but no formal action ever was taken.

At Greenfield, a vote on the change was taken following a lengthy discussion. The vote was on a motion by Ralph Bays, who stipulated that a two-thirds favorable majority be required and that those merchants preferring to stay open both nights vote "no."

The motion offered by Bays was:

"That we remain open until 8 o'clock each Friday evening and close at 6 o'clock each Saturday evening."

The results of the poll were as follows:

"Yes," 19.

"No," 6.

Abstaining, 4.

Wallace Gossett acted as chairman of the meeting. He had been delegated by the Chamber of Commerce several weeks ago to poll business people on the question, and had called session to bring about a final decision.

The group approved a motion made by Bill Collins that another meeting be held April 23 to determine the success of the change, i. e., whether the public has accepted it or prefers Saturday night shopping hours.

A "gentlemen's agreement" also was endorsed that those who voted to change from Saturday evening to Friday evening will not change back prior to the April 23 meeting.

$3,500 Budget Set Up By Junior Fair Board

The Junior Fair Board set up a budget of nearly $3,500 at its meeting Tuesday evening.

The group will submit a request for funds to cover the budget at the next meeting of the Fair Board, March 5.

Seeking other sources of income, the Junior Board also voted to set up a membership drive.

Honorary memberships and Junior Fair directorships will bring 50 cents apiece into the treasury and regular Junior Fair memberships will be 25 cents.

Members heard a report from John Bryant, chairman of the general rules committee on new rules designed to make for more efficient Junior Fair operation.

Among the suggested rules are: All livestock is to be fed by 9 A. M. and between 5:30 and 7:30 P. M. on Fair days.

Farm Bureau Aides Named For Parley

SPRINGFIELD — Stanley R. Hertzler of Jamestown and Wallace Hirschfeld of New Bremen have been named Farm Bureau legislative spokesmen for the Seventh and Fourth Congressional Districts, respectively.

They were selected at a 20-county meeting of Farm Bureau members yesterday. They and other delegates will visit Washington March 12-14 for conferences with legislators and agriculture department officials on declining farm income and proposed farm laws.

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

It has been many a day since Fayette County natives have reported seeing a jack-o-lantern, or will-o-the-wisp.

However, in the early days when much of the county was marshland or swampy, many persons were frightened by the sudden appearance of the jack-o-lantern late in the night, according to tales handed down by the early settlers.

Usually these mysterious lights appeared over swamp lands and were supposed to be the result of the combustion of gases arising from the muck in the swamps. They were usually reported as being of a greenish cast.

Such will-o-the-wisps were held to be possible and some highly reliable residents of the county whose word went unquestioned, were among those seeing the mysterious jack-o-lanterns particularly on rainy or misty nights.

I have not heard of a jack-o-lantern appearing in the county for more than a half century. At that time the mysterious light proved to be a conch dog owner who was training one of his young conch dogs and the bobbing lantern he carried was instantly taken for one of the mysterious swamp lights until investigation was made, and the fallacy of the supposition ascertained.

Benson Lashed Hard Before Ag Committee

Secretary Criticized For Failing To File Farm Bill In 3 Years

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Agriculture Benson ran into a storm of critical questioning when he appeared before the House Agriculture Committee yesterday to plead for the Eisenhower Administration's farm program.

Chairman Cooley (D-NC) accused Benson of ignoring the House group in submitting specific proposals, telling him: "You've been in office three years and to this day we have never had an official bill."

He told Benson, too, with evident sarcasm, that in submitting new legislation the secretary should "advise with your attorneys so you won't request authority you already have."

Benson conceded that the proposed soil bank, a major feature of the administration's program, had been proposed earlier and that his department rejected similar measures last year.

The idea of the soil bank is to pay subsidies to farmers who reduce their plantings of crops now in surplus.

IT IS COMBINED in the Senate bill with provisions to scrap the administration's flexible price supports in favor of a return to high, rigid props on basic crops.

Chairman Ellender (D-La.) of the Senate Agriculture committee, an advocate of the rigid price support provision, said "I'm certain we have a Senate majority" in favor of restoring rigid supports on corn, wheat, cotton, rice and peanuts. Benson contends this would add to existing crop surpluses and magnify the problem.

The Senate committee also voted to raise support levels for dairy products, to try a two-price plan for rice, and to add $250 million to existing funds for supporting prices on pork, beef and other perishable farm products now outside the regular support program. None of these features has administration backing.

BOY THROWS SWITCH, CAUSING TRAIN UPSET

KOKOMO, Ind. — An 11-year-old boy's statement that he threw a switch that derailed a Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train was turned over to Prosecutor Darrell Hodson today for possible action. Thirteen persons were hurt.

The twin diesel locomotive and four cars of a Chicago-to-Cincinnati train jumped the track in southeast Kokomo Feb. 6.

The boy told officers yesterday he stepped on a pedal loosening a lock, pulled the lock open and threw the switch, but he said he did not know his action would cause a wreck.

Police released the boy to his parents. He is one of 13 children in the family.

COPS SEEK MODERN GEORGE WASHINGTON

923 CITED BY FREEDOMS FOUNDATION

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. — Freedom's Foundation today turned the spotlight on what it said were the best things done in the United States in 1955 "to maintain the American way of life."

Altogether, the foundation honored 923 individuals, organizations and schools for things they wrote, said and did to preserve and advance America's freedom.

But today only the top winners, a group of less than 50, crowded into a tiny flag-draped barn to accept their awards from Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Radford keynoted the formal awards presentation with a speech that emphasized the importance of keeping America strong militarily if it is to remain free.

Real Tear-Jerker Case Handed Police

SPRINGFIELD — Police had a real tear-jerker on their hands today and they want no part of it. It's a 400-pound locked steel safe labeled, "danger—war gas."

It apparently tumbled from a passing truck on U. S. Route 40. Investigation disclosed the safe is full of tear gas. It is in the police garage today, bringing tears to the eyes of policemen passing it.

Doctor Admits Doing Illegal Operations

300 Abortions Yearly Since 1934 Confessed By Akron Medic, 72

AKRON — A 72-year-old doctor admitted in court yesterday he has performed abortions since 1934 at the rate of about 300 a year. He said his average fee was $200, providing him with a minimum average annual income of $60,000.

"This has been going on since earliest recorded history among both the savages and civilized people, and it will always go on," Dr. Roy L. Knapp told Judge Ray B. Watter, after pleading guilty to an abortion charge.

"On the day of the newspaper story of my indictment, I had to turn down 10 women in the afternoon," Dr. Knapp said.

He asked for the mercy of the court because of his age and to health. Judge Watter took the case under advisement pending medical testimony on Dr. Knapp's condition. Conviction of the charge carries a maximum possible penalty of one to seven years in prison. The judge advised:

"I will insist that you retire from the medical profession for any consideration shown."

Dr. Knapp, who has practiced medicine in Akron for 42 years, told the court he has "great respect" for the women he served.

"Many are unwed of good families, frantic to save their reputations and those of others they hold dear," he said. He said if they can't get good treatment, they will try dangerous treatment.

He said none of his abortions had resulted in death, but "I don't boast about that, it was by the grace of God."

Dr. Knapp said other Akron physicians had referred cases to him, and he suspects other doctors are performing abortions, but "I have no proof."

"The profession and the medical society have been most kind to me over the years," he said.

William Forster, assistant administrator of Akron City Hospital, reported the hospital had rendered laboratory services to Dr. Knapp, but "did not know the nature of his practice."

Millard C. Beyer, chairman of the Summit County Medical Society public relations committee, said the society had "no idea or proof" that Dr. Knapp performed abortions. Beyer asserted:

"It is true that he was treated kindly over the years, but without the knowledge that he was performing such acts."

Knapp's activities came under investigation after a 21-year-old woman went to City Hospital and told doctors he had performed an abortion on her.

Knapp is free on bond.

Ike Fund Linked To Oil Interests

WASHINGTON — Senate investigators were reported today to have found indications that oil man Howard B. Keck made his biggest political contribution in recent years to the national Citizens for Eisenhower Committee.

The personal checks and bank records of Keck, president of the Superior Oil Co. of California, have been subpoenaed by a special Senate Committee in its inquiry into a $2,500 campaign contribution offered by Superior attorneys to Sen. Francis Case (R-SD).

Case rejected the contribution on the grounds he suspected it was offered to influence his vote on the natural gas bill. He voted against the measure, designed to free natural gas producers from direct federal controls.

President Eisenhower vetoed the bill last Friday, citing "arragant" tactics he said were employed in its behalf by a small segment of the oil industry.

As an outgrowth of widespread accusations that pressure tactics were employed by both sides in the gas bill fight, Democratic and Republican Senate leaders have agreed to set up a special eight-member special investigating committee.

Robert Buskirk, 22, city, indicted by Fayette County Grand Jury last summer on a second degree manslaughter charge growing out of a fatal accident on April 31, 1955, in which three persons were fatally injured and several others injured critically, will be arraigned in Common Pleas Court before John P. Case Monday at 10:30 A. M.

Buskirk, only recently released from the U. S. Naval Hospital at Baltimore, Md., where he had been recovering from injuries received in the wreck near here is here now.

He has been out on bond since the charge was filed against him, a relative having furnished bail for him.

Buskirk, who was home on leave from the Navy when the accident occurred, was indicted on the second degree manslaughter charge because he permitted his bride of a day to operate his automobile although she lacked experience as a driver and had no driver's permit.

HIS WIFE, Diana Gentry Buskirk, was driving the car when it swung over on the wrong side of the road and crashed head-on into a car driven by William Henry Blough of Shelbyville, Tenn. He was killed outright. The accident occurred on U. S. 22, three miles west of Washington C. H.

Two sons, 11 and 13, and Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Estle Portia, 7, and Millicent, 3, passengers in the Buskirk car, also were fatally injured.

Diana Buskirk, seriously hurt, was indicted on three counts for second degree manslaughter. After she had recovered from her injuries, she was taken to the Girls Industrial School.

Buskirk is represented by Attorney Reed M. Winegardner.

Three other Estle children, injured in the same wreck, have been restored to "reasonably normal" health, medical authorities at Fayette Memorial Hospital said.

Most seriously injured was Vicki, 13, who suffered fractures of both arms, the jaw, the right leg and the collarbone.

She and her sister, Helen Darlene, who sustained a broken right leg, were released Tuesday from Memorial Hospital. They had been admitted Monday for operations to remove silver plates from their broken bones.

The third injured Estle child, Robert Keith, 8, suffered a dislocated hip in the wreck.

Altogether, Vicki has spent 25 days in the hospital since the wreck. Helen Darlene has been hospitalized for 18 days and Robert Keith, for four days.

'Missing' Fliers Only Out Fishing

HAVANA, Cuba — Two missing Cuban pilots, who were reported missing after taking off from Havana Monday for an undisclosed destination. The pilots were identified as Edward Frecker and Don Huck. They were surprised at hearing that they were "missing" since, they said, they merely had gone fishing.

Unimpeachable Source Quoted In Chicago

Decision Said Reached On Basis Of Health Report Plus Vacation

CHICAGO — The Chicago American said today "President Eisenhower has made up his mind to seek a second term in the White House."

"This was learned," the newspaper added, "from several unimpeachable sources — close, long-time friends of the President."

The American's story was written by Charles Linton, political editor. It said these sources disclosed that Eisenhower made his decision after his arrival at the Thomasville, Ga., estate of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey on Feb. 15. The newspaper reported:

"The President's decision to run again was bolstered by these events:

"1. The Feb. 14 assessment of a six-man medical team which stated that the President appears 'physically fit' and that he 'should be able to carry on an active life satisfactorily for another 5 to 10 years.'"

"2. The President's apparent ability to 'weather' the strain of hunting and playing golf."

The American said that its informants stressed that when the President disclosed his second term plans both Humphrey and the President's press secretary, James Hagerty, were "in on the conversation."

"It was added," the newspaper continued, "that one of the official group (the informants were unable to remember who it was) emphasized that the President's statement 'was to be regarded as confidential until a formal announcement was made.'"

Joking about his heart attack, Eisenhower today played his second round of golf since he was stricken last September.

Last Friday he played nine holes on his first trip to a golf course in nearly five months.

As he did last Friday, the President teamed up today with the club pro, John Walter. Their opponents were Hagerty and Jack Whitney, New York financier and horse enthusiast who owns a plantation nearby.

Eisenhower was accompanied to the golf course again by his personal physician, Gen. Howard M. Snyder. Snyder said he had "no qualms" about letting the President play 18 holes.

In Thomasville, Humphrey declared yesterday that after seven days in seclusion with the President, he has "no idea" whether the chief executive will bid for reelection.

Humphrey, one of the President's trusted advisers, says further that he and Eisenhower did not even discuss the big question during the first week of their quail hunting visit at the Cabinet officer's plantation home here.

Humphrey just about flabbergasted newsmen with those remarks as he left by plane for Washington last night from Spencer air base at nearby Moultrie, Ga. He was en route to the capital for a few hours at his office this morning, before going on to New York for a speaking engagement tonight.

Humphrey plans to fly back to Thomasville tomorrow to resume his role as host to the President. Eisenhower intends to return to Washington Saturday.

An hour and a half before Humphreys took off for Washington last night, he and Eisenhower concluded another day of hunting. Eisenhower bagged 11 birds and Humphreys brought down eight.

Military Airplane Crashes, Kill 6

PALM BEACH, Fla. — Six men were killed late yesterday in two crashes of military planes in south Florida.

Five died when their Boeing KC97 Stratofreighter of the 1740th Air Transport Squadron crashed and burned at the Palm Beach Air Force Base. A Marine Corps pilot was killed when his Douglas Skyraider fell 100 yards from the end of a runway at the Marine Corps Air Station at Opa-Locka.

Ike Fund Linked To Oil Interests

WASHINGTON (P) — Senate investigators were reported today to have found indications that oil man Howard B. Keck made his biggest political contribution in recent years to the national Citizens for Eisenhower Committee.
The personal checks and bank records of Keck, president of the Superior Oil Co. of California, have been subpoenaed by a special Senate Committee in its inquiry into a $2,500 campaign contribution offered by Superior attorneys to Sen. Francis Case (R-SD).

Case rejected the contribution on the grounds he suspected it was offered to influence his vote on the natural gas bill. He voted against the measure, designed to free natural gas producers from direct federal controls.

President Eisenhower vetoed the bill last Friday, citing "arrogant" tactics he said were employed in its behalf by a small segment of the oil industry.
As an outgrowth of widespread accusations that pressure tactics were employed by both sides in the gas bill fight, Democratic and Republican Senate leaders have agreed to set up a special eight-member special investigating committee.

It would have broad powers to inquire into campaign contributions, lobbying and any improper or illegal influence, and would be directed to make specific recommendations for new legislation by next Jan. 1.

A source close to the special committee looking into the Case incident said an examination of checks and records indicated "several" campaign gifts by Keck, a supporter of the gas bill.

This source, who asked not to be named, said the largest was for the national Citizens for Eisenhower Committee. The committee worked for Eisenhower's election in 1952. It recently has been revived.

Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the special committee said he hadn't personally examined Keck's checks and records and didn't know what they showed.
He said his committee would be interested only to the extent of "determining if there was any pattern of contributions made by Keck."

The Senate yesterday extended the life of George's committee.

Greasy Thumb Guzik Is Dead

CHICAGO (P) — Greasy Thumb Guzik, who didn't fit any popular conception of a gang boss but who was ranked a big wheel in the underworld since the days of Al Capone in the 1920s, is dead.

The 69-year-old gang chief, who once was Capone's chief lieutenant and who reportedly masterminded the gang's way to riches and political power, died here last night of a heart attack.

Guzik, gray-haired, flabby and mild mannered, was regarded as the top gambling boss in Chicago after Capone abdicated. "Scarface Al" left Chicago, aided by the federal government, to serve 11 years in prison for tax evasion.

And it was for income tax evasion that Guzik met with his only reversal in his many brushes with the law in some 30 years. He was sentenced in 1930, with Capone, to serve five years in prison and fined $17,500 for evasion of more than $1 million in income taxes for 1927-1929.

tee from March 1 until March 10. George announced it will probably wind up public hearings next Tuesday.

Witnesses to be heard then include lawyers John M. Neff of Lexington, Neb.; Elmer Patman of Austin, Tex.; Joseph Wishart, Nebraska state Republican finance chairman; and possibly Keck. Neff and Patman are employed by the Superior Oil Co.

The committee has heard that Neff, who delivered 25 $100 bills to a friend of Case in South Dakota, also donated $2,500 to the Nebraska committee through Wishart. Patman testified he provided out of Keck's personal funds the $2,500 rejected by Case.

Robert Buskirk To Be Arraigned Here on Monday

Manslaughter Charge Faced As Result Of Fatal Car Crash

Robert Buskirk, 22, city, indicted by Fayette County Grand Jury last summer on a second degree manslaughter charge growing out of a fatal accident on April 31, 1955, in which three persons were fatally injured and several others injured critically, will be arraigned in Common Pleas Court before John P. Case Monday at 10:30 A. M.

Buskirk, only recently released from the U. S. Naval Hospital at Baltimore, Md., where he had been recovering from injuries received in the wreck near here is here now.

He has been out on bond since the charge was filed against him, a relative having furnished bail for him.

Buskirk, who was home on leave from the Navy when the accident occurred, was indicted on the second degree manslaughter charge because he permitted his bride of a day to operate his automobile although she lacked experience as a driver and had no driver's permit.

HIS WIFE, Diana Gentry Buskirk, was driving the car when it swung over on the wrong side of the road and crashed head-on into a car driven by William Henry Blough of Shelbyville, Tenn. He was killed outright. The accident occurred on U. S. 22, three miles west of Washington C. H.

Two small daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Estle Portia, 7, and Millicent, 3, passengers in the Buskirk car, also were fatally injured.

Diana Buskirk, seriously hurt, was indicted on three counts for second degree manslaughter. After she had recovered from her injuries, she was taken to the Girls Industrial School.

Buskirk is represented by Attorney Reed M. Winegardner. Three other Estle children, injured in the same wreck, have been restored to "reasonably normal" health, medical authorities at Fayette Memorial Hospital said.

Most seriously injured was Vicki, 13, who suffered fractures of both arms, the jaw, the right leg and the collarbone.

She and her sister, Helen Darlene, who sustained a broken right leg, were released Tuesday from Memorial Hospital. They had been admitted Monday for operations to remove silver plates from their broken bones.

The third injured Estle child, Robert Keith, 8, suffered a dislocated hip in the wreck. Altogether, Vicki has spent 25 days in the hospital since the wreck. Helen Darlene has been hospitalized for 18 days and Robert Keith, for four days.

'Missing' Fliers Only Out Fishing

HAVANA, Cuba (P) — Two missing Columbus, Ohio, pilots and seven others traveling with them in their two small private planes have been located at Matanzas, about 50 miles east of here, where they made a landing yesterday. All aboard were reported safe.
The two planes were the object of a search in the Caribbean area after taking off from Havana Monday for an undisclosed destination. The pilots were identified as Edward Frecker and Don Huck. They were surprised at hearing that they were "missing" since, they said, they merely had gone fishing.

Unimpeachable Source Quoted In Chicago

Decision Said Reached On Basis Of Health Report Plus Vacation

CHICAGO (P) — The Chicago American said today "President Eisenhower has made up his mind to seek a second term in the White House."

"This was learned," the newspaper added, "from several unimpeachable sources — close long-time friends of the President."

The American's story was written by Charles Linton, political editor. It said these sources disclosed that Eisenhower made his decision after his arrival at the Thomasville, Ga., estate of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey on Feb. 15. The newspaper reported: "Ike's friends said that the President's decision to run again was bolstered by these events:

"1. The Feb. 14 assessment of a six-man medical team which stated that the President appears 'physically fit' and that he 'should be able to carry on an active life satisfactorily for another 5 to 10 years.'"

"2. THE PRESIDENT's apparent ability to 'weather' the strain of hunting and playing golf." The American said that its informants stressed that when the President disclosed his second term plans both Humphrey and the President's press secretary, James Hagerty, were "in on the conversation."

"It was added," the newspaper continued, "that one of the official group (the informants were unable to remember who it was) emphasized that the President's statement 'was to be regarded as confidential until a formal announcement was made.'"

Joking about his heart attack, Eisenhower today played his second round of golf since he was stricken last September.

Last Friday he played nine holes on his first trip to a golf course in nearly five months.

As he did last Friday, the President teamed up today with the club pro, John Walter. Their opponents were Hagerty and Jock Whitney, New York financier and horse enthusiast who owns a plantation nearby.

Eisenhower was accompanied to the golf course again by his personal physician, Gen. Howard M. Snyder. Snyder said he had "no qualms" about letting the President play 18 holes.

In Thomasville, Humphrey declared yesterday that after seven days in seclusion with the President, he has "no idea" whether the chief executive will bid for reelection.

Humphrey, one of the President's trusted advisers, says further that he and Eisenhower did not even discuss the big question during the first week of their quail hunting visit at the Cabinet officer's plantation home here.

Humphrey just about flabbergasted newsmen with those remarks as he left by plane for Washington last night from Spenser air base at nearby Moultrie, Ga. He was en route to the capital for a few hours at his office this morning, before going on to New York for a speaking engagement tonight.

Humphrey plans to fly back to Thomasville tomorrow to resume his role as host to the President. Eisenhower intends to return to Washington Saturday.

An hour and a half before Humphreys took off for Washington last night, he and Eisenhower concluded another day of hunting. Eisenhower bagged 11 birds and Humphreys brought down eight.

Military Airplane Crashes, Kill 6

PALM BEACH, Fla. (P) — Six men were killed late yesterday in two crashes of military planes in south Florida.

Five died when their Boeing KC97 Stratofreighter of the 1740th Air Transport Squadron crashed and burned at the Palm Beach Air Force Base. A Marine Corps pilot was killed when his Douglas Skyraider fell 100 yards from the end of a runway at the Marine Corps Air Station at Opa-Locka.

River Due To Drop

CINCINNATI (P) — Weather Bureau officials predict the Ohio River will drop slowly for the rest of the week. It crested yesterday at 50.6 feet.

Judge Speaks At BPW Meet

Case Outlines Laws And Responsibility

John P. Case, Judge of the Common Pleas Court here, held the spotlight as speaker Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

During the meeting seven new members were welcomed into the club by Mrs. Smith Mace, president.

Judge Case, a native of Fayette County and graduate of Ohio State University Law School spoke on "Legislative Powers Under the Constitution."

He outlined the fundamental laws and the Constitution and stated the responsibility of voters in deciding whether laws passed by the legislature should remain on the books.

The Judge commented on "Independent Woman," the monthly magazine published by the BPW national organization. He read excerpts from several issues and urged club members to read the magazine and follow the principals of leadership mentioned in the magazine excerpts.

Mrs. Dorothy Hummel, a BPW member, sang "At Candlelight," "Wee Hughie" and "Here Again Spring." She furnished her own accompaniment. Mrs. Dorothy Wallace furnished dinner music.

MRS. SMITH MACE, president of the club, conducted the business meeting. Reports were given by Miss Eleanor Clay, recording secretary and Mrs. M. J. Whitfield, club treasurer.

New members welcomed into the organization were Mrs. Beatrice Slagle, Mrs. Darlene Lemley, Mrs. Mary Chinn, Mrs. Jean King, Mrs. Jessie Worrell, Mrs. Mary Parrett and Mrs. Elizabeth Yarian.

Mrs. Lowell Miller of the group's education committee introduced the two senior high school girls of the month, Carol June Wilson and Nancy Jean Merritt both of Washington C. H. High School.

Mrs. Urcell Hays of the health and safety committee gave the health slogan for the month, "If you want life to begin at 40, don't go like 60 when you are 20." She reported that the committee has made plans for the March meeting.

Mrs. Emma Montgomery stated that this is Observance of International Week and read messages from the international president and international deputy president.

MRS. MACE reported that Miss Helen Slavens and Miss Edith Wilson have been appointed to assist with the club's Girl Scout project and represent the club at Girl Scout meetings. She also appointed Mrs. Mildred Rogers to serve on the Education Fund committee.

Members interested in attending the 1956 convention in Toledo May 25-27 were urged to make reservations. In line with upcoming events, the first announcement was made of the Biennial convention at Miami Beach June 30 to July 6.

Guests for the evening were Miss Mildred Smith, Miss Nancy Kinney, Mrs. Carolyn Thomas and Mrs. John P. Case.

The meeting was planned by the legislation committee, under the direction of Miss Marie Melvin, chairman. Other members of that committee include Miss Mary Jo Cullen, Miss Mary Sauer, Mrs. Loretta O'Brian, Mrs. Manetta

Jamestown Woman Reaches 103 Years

Mrs. Arvilla Dye, Greene County's oldest resident, has just celebrated her 103rd birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Dye, in a rest home at Jamestown, was remembered by many friends who called, or sent gifts and cards. A large birthday cake with "103" on the top, featured the celebration.

Mrs. Dye has been a patient in the rest home for 14 years and is in fairly good health.

Driver Is Facing Three Charges Here

Johnny F. Morgan, of Chattanooga, Tenn., was arrested here Tuesday—the only one picked up during the day—on three charges.

He had no certificate of title for his motor vehicle, had fictitious license plates on the car, and failed to display a registration number, police said.

He posted bond for appearance in municipal court.

Man Known Here Found Dead in Home

Maxwell D. Rader 49, who had many friends and an aunt, Mrs. Robert Edge, in Washington C. H., was found dead in his home in Middletown Monday by his son, David, and neighbors who had been checking up on his absence.

Dr. Garrett J. Boone, the Butler County coroner, ruled Tuesday that Mr. Rader had died accidentally of monoxide poisoning. His dog, also dead, was lying beside the body of his master.

Mr. Rader's body was found near a heater in the house. Dr. Boone estimated he had been dead about three days.

Robert Parrett, a close friend here, said he understood that Mrs. Rader had been away on a visit. However, he knew none of the details concerning the tragedy.

Besides his wife, Lucille, and son David, Mr. Rader is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Joan Weidle of Middletown, two grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. Frank Reichelderfer of Columbus and Mrs. Edge, his aunt here.

Funeral services are to be held Thursday in Middletown and burial is to be in the family lot in the Circleville Cemetery.

Former Resident Dies In Columbus

Ralph Klaus, 50, a Columbus resident who formerly lived in Washington C. H., died at Benjamin Franklin Hospital in Columbus Tuesday.

A maintenance employee at the hospital, he was born in Chillicothe. Survivors include two sisters, Miss Rose Klaus of Columbus and Mrs. Frank Hanks of Chillicothe and two brothers, Carl Klaus of Elyria and Elmer Klaus of Chillicothe.

Services will be held at the Fawcett-Oliver Funeral Home 2 P. M. Friday with Rev. Fred W. Knickerhalm officiating. Burial will be in the Grandview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 4 P. M. Thursday.

Jamestown Woman Reaches 103 Years

Mrs. Arvilla Dye, Greene County's oldest resident, has just celebrated her 103rd birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Dye, in a rest home at Jamestown, was remembered by many friends who called, or sent gifts and cards. A large birthday cake with "103" on the top, featured the celebration.

Mrs. Dye has been a patient in the rest home for 14 years and is in fairly good health.

Driver Is Facing Three Charges Here

Johnny F. Morgan, of Chattanooga, Tenn., was arrested here Tuesday—the only one picked up during the day—on three charges.

He had no certificate of title for his motor vehicle, had fictitious license plates on the car, and failed to display a registration number, police said.

He posted bond for appearance in municipal court.

Funeral Services Are Held For Ivan Blair

Funeral services for Ivan Blair were held at 2 P. M. Monday in the House of Prayer, with Rev. Henry Leeth and Rev. Arthur George in charge.

Burial was in the White Oak Cemetery.

Man Known Here Found Dead in Home

Maxwell D. Rader 49, who had many friends and an aunt, Mrs. Robert Edge, in Washington C. H., was found dead in his home in Middletown Monday by his son, David, and neighbors who had been checking up on his absence.

Dr. Garrett J. Boone, the Butler County coroner, ruled Tuesday that Mr. Rader had died accidentally of monoxide poisoning. His dog, also dead, was lying beside the body of his master.

Mr. Rader's body was found near a heater in the house. Dr. Boone estimated he had been dead about three days.

Robert Parrett, a close friend here, said he understood that Mrs. Rader had been away on a visit. However, he knew none of the details concerning the tragedy.

Besides his wife, Lucille, and son David, Mr. Rader is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Joan Weidle of Middletown, two grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. Frank Reichelderfer of Columbus and Mrs. Edge, his aunt here.

Funeral services are to be held Thursday in Middletown and burial is to be in the family lot in the Circleville Cemetery.

All-American Dean A. Dugger, Rotary Speaker

Representative of World Neighbors, Inc. Tells Of Work Being Done

A modest and serious minded young man, who attained national prominence as an All-American football end in Ohio State University's famous and victorious Rose Bowl team season before last, spoke to Rotarians and guests at the club luncheon Tuesday at the Country Club.

The speaker, now a field representative of World Neighbors, Inc., was Dean A. Dugger, who explained the aims and purposes of the organization he represents and indicated his belief that the work this organization is doing is one of the best and most responsive methods of assuring world peace in dealing with backward countries such as India in the Far East.

DUGGER WHO was presented by Max Lawrence of the February program committee, earnestly proved that he was devotedly sold on the modest but effective efforts being followed by World Neighbors, Inc., in detailing what was being done by the organization, which he asserted does not operate a "hand-out" program and is neither a government agency nor a sectarian religious organization, but cooperates with all other agencies. Its main purpose is to have its trained representatives live with the people who need attention, in their own villages, and teach them a "self help" program of progress.

He asserted that remarkable achievement has been gained by this method and thousands of lasting friendships have been won among the people who have been living backward lives.

Throughout his talk Dugger repeatedly used well known football expressions to clarify and clinch his points. Among other statements he declared:

"WE, AS Americans, always seem to be satisfied with our selves until we are hurt, and then we really move — but at the expense of human life, young men and boys.

"We are engaged in a large football game with the world as the gridiron. The Communist team is gaining a lot of ground. Although our government has a good defense, a team has never won a game on defense alone. The Communists have a good offense. It is new. They are gaining ground without the loss of a player. It is a cold war offense. We need a good offense, and World Neighbors is that offense.

"Either we are not aware that the Communists are across our 50 yard line, or else we don't realize how serious the situation is. Why wait until we're in a hole. It's much easier to play the game at mid-field, than it is with your back to a wall.

"Let's get the offense going now, let's help our world neighbors, let's give the offense a chance while there is room for it to operate."

In outlining the plans and methods of the organization he is representing, Dugger said:

"World Neighbors, Inc., is a non political, non-sectarian organization, which is spiritually motivated for the purposes of helping undeveloped areas of the world to help themselves.

"By teaching and actually demonstrating, we are showing them how to stand on their own two feet. How to improve their breeds of animals, improve their farming methods and products, better health and sanitation methods, small home crafts, how to read and write, child care, better homes and civic projects are all part of our program. In short, we show them how to raise their standards of living.

"ALONG WITH sharing our "know-how", we provide the material which is necessary for them to improve their lot. However, we do not offer a "hand-out" program. In almost every case where World Neighbors has provided this people with this necessary material, they in return repay us a percentage of the increased production of their lot.

"We are not trying to change them, only to help them. No government agency or religious connection is involved. It is a grass roots movement of the people of this country to the peoples of other countries.

"We presently have 13 projects in operation, 11 of which are in India, which is the crisis area."

DUGGERS further pointed out that among World Neighbors objectives are:

"To share our know-how with the peoples of all nations in finding their way to adequate food, shelter, clothing; to healthy bodies and sound minds; to the fruits of freedom and enlightened self-government; to the spiritual resources that lead to an abundant life; to a dynamic and lasting peace in the world."

When the speaker completed his talk, President Dougherty highly complimented him for his explanation of an organization doing a fine job about which most of those present had known nothing about.

Previous to the speaking program it was announced that next week's Rotary meeting is to be devoted primarily to the aims and objects of Rotary and will be in charge of Ed Moser, head of the Rotary Information Committee.

President Dougherty also announced that W. F. Himmelspach, W. J. Hilty and Dr. A. D. Woodmansee have been named as a nominating committee to select a list of candidates for positions, as members of the Rotary Board of Directors who will be elected at a future meeting and will take office about the middle of this year.

BIRTHDAY greetings were sung for Frank Jackson and Willi a m Clift who contributed to the club's youth fund.

Student guests presented by Glen W. Allen were Jack Groff and Ralph Haines. The former made an appropriate response in thanking the club for being invited.

The only visiting Rotarian at this meeting was F. E. Hill of Xenia. Other visitors were county Health Director Dr. Benton V. D. Scott, with Ed Moser; Atty. Richard Rankin with Atty. Rollo Marchant and Dave Ogan with Carroll Halliday.

Marlyn Riley was called to stand by President Dougherty, to receive a round of applause for his recent election as president of the board of trustees of the Fayette County Memorial Hospital.

Federal Aid For Plowing Contest Now Sought

The growing demands for expenditure of more federal government funds for different promotions, many of which have merit but which in the past has been financed by private and local government contributions, is becoming something that is needing more and more thought by the general public and government officials before offering quick "handouts". Where is this sort of thing to stop?

One of the latest propositions, while comparatively small in itself, but which is just one of many such ideas being urged from various groups, is an investment by the federal government of $300,000 in helping to finance the coming World Plowing Contest.

This event is of special interest to a large number of farmers. It is to be held at Peebles, Ohio, and is growing in interest and popularity. Undoubtedly it will be attended by many agriculturists from Fayette County and certainly from all over Ohio and from other states.

The chief sponsor of this event, Earl K. DeVore believes that the federal department of agriculture should help defray the cost of this international event. He has told officials of the department that he thinks at least $300,000 should be contributed by the government to save sponsors possible "financial embarrassment", since it is expected to cost a minimum of $400,000, maybe more.

There will be many who are in sympathy with DeVore's requests. He wants everything to be "tops", but again the question arises as to just how far the government can go in meeting the desires of the many groups which are asking such help for various projects.

Rep. Cooley, chairman of the House

Agriculture Committee, puts it: "Why, you could take 20 plowing teams with $400,000 and finance them to every state in the union." Moreover, as Rep. Poage suggests, there is a question whether the federal government should offer any financial assistance at all.

The World and the annual National Plowing Contests are often likened to the Olympics; they are sporting events in which the best tractor operators of all nations compete for top honors. While there are usually side events of interest to farmers and government experts—e.g., displays of the latest farm machinery and test plots showing new planting techniques—the contests are not primarily educational.

Those going to Peebles will go to have fun and possibly to purchase machinery, newly-developed fertilizer, or a different kind of seed.

Considering that it will be an international event, Congressmen may be inclined to agree that the government does have some responsibility in seeing to it that the Peebles sponsors are able to put on an adequate show.

Of course, this might mean that legislators would also have to accede to demands by sportsmen that the government accept a similar, and even more pressing, responsibility to underwrite the Olympics four years from now when certain of the games are to be held in California. However, even putting aside the awkward precedent, the department of agriculture and Congress will have a difficult time justifying the authorization of $300,000 for a four-day plowing show in Southern Ohio.

Air Academy Life Rugged

By Hal Boyle

LOWRY AIR FORCE BASE, Colo. (P)—Any young man who thinks admission to the new U.S. Air Force Academy is an easy step toward a soft life in the armed forces gets a quick disillusionment.

Only the hardy survive. Of the 306 cadets selected last summer from 6,300 applicants to join the first class of the nation's third service academy, 41 have already been washed out.

The reason most of them left: the going was simply too rugged, the discipline too spartan.

The survival rate actually so far has exceeded the expectations of academy officials, who deliberately have planned a four-year course of study tough enough to strain the stoutest. They aren't interested in creating a corps of swivel chair warriors. Each cadet signs a statement that upon graduation as a navigator-observer he will go on and become a pilot.

As Lt. Gen. Hubert R. Harmon, academy superintendent, points out:

"Today a single officer in the U. S. Air Force may be called upon to carry out a mission which, during World War II, would have required the crews of a thousand planes. That officer must have the courage, the character and the patriotism to press home his mission against any and all odds. He may have to do this alone in the skies with no other American within thousands of miles to observe his conduct."

What kind of a boy aspires to become this type officer?

The average cadet here is 19 years old, serious-minded, a good student, and comes from middle class parents. Comparatively few spring from families with a professional military background. He may not be of varsity athlete caliber, but he will be in top physical condition and he has 20-20 vision.

Typical are Mike Lipscomb of Tucson, Ariz., and Richard Lee of Kalamazoo, Mich. Both are 19. Mike's dad is in real estate. Dick's dad is a truck salesman.

They each get $111.15 a month out of which they can keep only $8 for spending money.

Almost every minute of their day is rigidly controlled, from the time they rise at 5:30 a. m., and make their beds until "lights out" at 9:30 p. m.

They march to and from classes, and practically everywhere else. They spend at least 20 hours a week in class, more than that preparing their lessons. Among the arts they are expected to learn: How to deal a deadly judo blow effectively, how to dance gracefully.

At dinner table they practice Air Force lingo, and each cadet in turn acts as table pilot, navigator, or crew chief. When the coffee reaches the table, for example, the navigator may announce:

"Sir, the JP-4 (coffee) has completed its cross-country and is on the ramp."

Or:

"Sir, the fuel injection (water) has met its ETA and is on the ramp."

The cadets have an honor code which is unbelievably strict and to which they are fanatically loyal, as they enforce it themselves. Its main tenet is unswerving adherence to the truth.

One cadet who stepped across the hall to borrow some tobacco quibbled when asked by an officer if he had permission to leave his room. After the 12-man cadet honor council investigated his case, they asked him to resign from the academy. He did.

The cadets can date twice a week, but during the first year are restricted to the base, except during parental visits. They are expected to abstain from liquor completely until graduation.

Do the cadets like the life?

"Yes, it definitely brings a closer comradeship," said Lipscomb. "You're not only closer to one man, you're closer to all." "Yeah," grinned Lee, who wants to be a fighter pilot. "The suffering brings us together. There isn't time for monotony to set in. They keep us too busy."

Evolution Of American Physician

By George Sokolsky

When I was a boy, back in the old days, all doctors wore whiskers. That is how you knew he was a doctor. It was just like all policemen carried beer-barrel bellies and occasionally flowing mustaches. Even in plain clothes, you somehow knew the policeman by his rotundity, his mustache and his flat feet. But the doctor always stood out among men by his whiskers.

There were no automobiles where I lived and very few telephones. Doctors stayed pretty close to the neighborhood to hold on to the patients. Few ever went to hospitals, which, in those days, had very bad reputations. Everybody knew that the show was over when the doctor called in a professor for a consultation. Nearly all the professors came from Germany and they had wonderful reputations. Some of them could cure you just by looking at you. Still and all, a sickness must be pretty terrible if a family must spend $5 or $10 to get a professor. And if the professor said the patient had to go to the hospital, the family used to begin collecting the money for the funeral.

Of course, when the telephone came, it was no longer necessary to send a child to call the doctor. The whole block knew who had a telephone and could call up. The doctor still climbed three of four flights of stairs to see the patient. Saturdays and Sundays made no difference because $2 was just as good on Saturday or Sunday as any other day.

The doctor was always an educated man in those days and he knew German. He was no specialist; that was left for the professors. The neighborhood doctor was ready for everything and he always looked magnificent with his beard. Before anybody, even in Greenwich Village, heard of Freud, the neighborhood doctor was a psychologist because he had to deal with all sorts of illness, the most devastating being boredom, frustration and that, all immigrants suffer from because nothing else comes out as was expected and at times the world is so drab that there are all kinds of sicknesses inside. That is now called psychosomatics but in the days I am talking about, it had no name but was usually cured by getting married.

Well, in due course, the doctor shaved his beard off and got an automobile and everybody is a professor who knows one little piece of anybody's sickness. They are expert but they do not look so handsome as the old-timer with the whiskers on his face and Goethe under his arm.

Staying in a hospital weeks on end, brings one close to doctors, nurses, dietitians and blood-takers. It is an atmosphere to which one has to become accustomed because there is no way out. You are taken to your doctor's hospital and given the world by which in due course you are cured. Each one had his duty to do and you lie and wait for each to do it.

The most difficult problem is the food. Most of it is a tribulation with which one must somehow compromise because what can you do about it? I do not know whether the trial over hospital food is universal, but it has been my experience. So if I ever have to go into one of these places again, I shall pick one that has a chef instead of a dietitian. The trouble is that they may make the diet unpalatable purposely.

I should imagine that doctors are better off today than they were in the old days when they were whiskers, but in those days patients loved the doctors as neighborhood friends; in fact, the whole block loved and respected the doctor who was everybody's friend and guide. He was like the cop on the beat. There must have been a tremendous satisfaction in that. That intimacy is gone—in between the telephone, the office secretary, nurses, specialists, etc., etc. It is no longer a confidential relationship; rather, it is a transmission belt, from one to the other.

So we call it progress and it probably is an improvement, but the human relationship, the warmth of family relationships from the cradle to the grave, cannot exist in a world of specialists. The old general practitioner, the doctor with the whiskers, may be did not know everything in the book, but he knew the deep secrets in the hearts of his patients and he had to heal them.

No Need To Suffer With Menstrual Pains

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Many women suffer unnecessary pain during menstrual periods. Maybe you are one of them.

In this condition, which we call dysmenorrhea, the pain is usually cramplike. It can be mild or severe and is usually located in the lower part of the abdomen. In some patients, however, it is in the thighs and the back.

When Pain Comes

You may have the pain just before or during the menstrual period. It may last only a few hours or it may last several days.

There may be several causes for this pain.

Disturbances of the uterus or womb may be responsible. Sometimes a disturbance of the glands of internal secretion is the cause.

Overwork a Factor

Emotional and nervous disorders also play an important part in causing dysmenorrhea. Overwork is often a contributing factor, too.

Your physician can do a lot to help you. There are many forms of treatment, but he can advise the best one for you after he determines the reason for your discomfort.

Glandular Preparations

Mild sedatives and drugs which relieve spasm might help you. Various glandular preparations such as estrogen and progesterone have been found useful. Moderate doses of testosterone, or the male hormone, have helped.

But never take any drugs without proper advice.

Do not, however, rely on drugs. The underlying cause of the condition must be determined by the doctor so you can get permanent relief.

Avoid Overwork

Meanwhile, you can make things easier for yourself.

Do not become overly tired or exhausted. Get at least eight hours sleep each night, more if you can. Rest occasionally during the day, too.

Heat often brings relief from pain. Place a hot water bottle or an electric heating pad on your abdomen when in pain.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. M. A. W.: I have large black spots on the bottom of my feet. What would cause this?

Answer: It is impossible to tell the cause for the black spots on your feet. They might be due to a fungus infection or to some other type of infection.

Examination by a skin specialist would be advisable.

Mild sedatives and drugs which relieve spasm might help you. Various glandular preparations such as estrogen and progesterone have been found useful. Moderate doses of testosterone, or the male hormone, have helped.

But never take any drugs without proper advice.

Do not, however, rely on drugs. The underlying cause of the condition must be determined by the doctor so you can get permanent relief.

Avoid Overwork

Meanwhile, you can make things easier for yourself.

Do not become overly tired or exhausted. Get at least eight hours sleep each night, more if you can. Rest occasionally during the day, too.

Heat often brings relief from pain. Place a hot water bottle or an electric heating pad on your abdomen when in pain.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. M. A. W.: I have large black spots on the bottom of my feet. What would cause this?

Answer: It is impossible to tell the cause for the black spots on your feet. They might be due to a fungus infection or to some other type of infection.

Examination by a skin specialist would be advisable.

Mrs. Markley Leads Meeting Of Mite Society

Fourteen members of the Wesley Mite Society assembled in Fellowship Hall at Grace Methodist Church Tuesday afternoon for the regular meeting.

The meeting was opened with the singing of a hymn and the devotion following in charge of Mrs. Earl Scott. The reading of a version of "The Lord's Prayer," taken from "The Classmate," a church magazine.

Mrs. John Markley, president, conducted the business meeting, during which Mrs. Willard Moore gave the secretary's report in the absence of Mrs. Elza Sanderson.

Special reports given by the members included 30 calls made, and 30 cards sent during the past month.

Robin cards were sent to members to Mrs. Lillie Blair and Mrs. Elza Sanderson, who are ill, and the business meeting was closed with the benediction.

Mrs. Earl Scott, program leader, presented Mrs. Rex Pittenger, who read the life story of Dorothy Dix, which was portrayed in the story "Angel of the Madhouse," and Mrs. Fred Barker, who read "When You Cheat Yourself."

An enjoyable contest using slogans was won by Mrs. Pittenger and Mrs. Moore.

Mrs. Pittenger presented a piano solo "Shores of Waikiki" to close the program.

During the social hour Mrs. Jesse Todd, chairman of the hostess committee and her assistants, Mrs. Ancil Brown, Mrs. Howard Nessel and Mrs. Frank E. Haines served dainty refreshments at one long table centered with an arrangement of pussywillows flanked with candles.

Mission Circle Holds Meeting At Chinn Home

Mrs. Mary Chinn was hostess to members of the Ann Judson Mission Circle of First Baptist Church at her home Tuesday evening with thirteen members present.

Mrs. Norman D. Renn, one of the advisors of the circle, led in the opening prayer and Mrs. Burdette Johnson, chairman presided over the meeting.

The secretary, Mrs. Ted Yoakum, gave her report, as did the treasurer, Mrs. Howard Ault, Jr., both of which were accepted as read.

The devotions led by Mrs. Burdette Johnson were built around a letter from the late Ann Judson, written October 21, 1812, while in Calcutta, India's missionary asking for help from friends in the United States.

Mrs. Robert Hurtt, program leader, also gave the life history of Ann Judson, which was most interesting and the remainder of the evening was spent in the arranging of programs for the meetings in March, April, May and June.

During the social hour, Mrs. Calvin Oty assisted Mrs. Chinn in the serving of delicious refreshments.

DOUBLE-BREASTED BOLERO COSTUME of pearl gray Italian linen-like silk was designed by Jo Copeland. The blouse is of doubled organdy, a film of dotted dark gray set down so that a rim of the white underneath shows.

Blue Bird Group Enjoys Crafts At Meeting

Eighteen members of the Cherry Blue Birds of Cherry Hill School, met after school, as usual at the school on Tuesday with the leaders, Mrs. Jerry Grundies and Mrs. Harold Allen also present.

The meeting was opened with a singing game, and the roll call was followed with the usual business session.

The children learned to braid in the craft period, under the direction of the leaders, and the meeting was closed with the Friendship Circle.

The small hostess, Cynthia Grundies, served light refreshments.

Dinner Precedes Guild Meeting

The February meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild was held in Fellowship Hall in Grace Methodist Church, and was preceded by a delicious covered dish dinner, with a large number of members present.

The tables were elaborately decorated in a patriotic theme, suggestive of Washington's Birthday.

Mrs. Clarence E. Craig, president, presided over the business session held following the dinner hour which included the usual reports and discussion on projects of the society.

Miss Lulu Binegar, program chairman presented Miss Marian Christopher, who conducted the impressive devotions and also a most interesting talk on the spiritual significance of Lent.

The hostess committee for the meeting was composed of Mrs. C. F. Lucas, chairman, Mrs. Walter Fults, Mrs. Urcell Hays, Mrs. Amanda Kier, Mrs. Malcolm Parrett, and Miss Lillian Taylor.

Personals

Mrs. Loren D. Hynes is spending this week in Mt. Holly, New Jersey, where she is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Dray and Lieutenant Dray.

Mrs. Robert Burns and daughter, Lonnie of Columbus, spent Wednesday with Mrs. Burns' parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Farquhar.

Gaye Lynn Flax Is Honored At Birthday Event

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Flax entertained a group of children at a supper party Tuesday evening, and the occasion honored the fifth birthday anniversary of their daughter, Gaye Lynn.

The hours of the party were from five to seven o'clock in the evening and following a round of musical games Gaye Lynn opened her lovely gifts and responded sweetly.

The tempting meal was served at two small tables with places marked with party hats and horns which were favors, and the table at which the honor guest was seated, was centered with the birthday cake decorated in pink and blue topped with five tapers which was served with the dessert course.

Mr. and Mrs. Flax were assisted during the evening by Gaye Lynn's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Pittenger and an aunt, Mrs. Damon Merritt.

Small guests included were: Kerilyn Hopewell, Marty Garringer, Michael Inskeep, Carolyn James, Donny Miller, Roger McCoy, Ronnie Hoskins, Keith Merritt all of this community, Tamson Burris of Sabina, and the honor guest's small brother, Jackie, who will celebrate his first birthday on Thursday, February 23.

Open House Is Planned For The Swengels

The congregation of Grace Methodist Church will entertain at open house for the pastor, Rev. Clinton W. Swengel and his family, on Sunday, February 26 between the hours of four and six o'clock in the afternoon.

The event is in the form of a farewell gesture for Rev. Swengel and his family who leave for Fullerton, California early in March where Rev. Swengel has accepted another pastorate.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Weight-watchers might well use a salad dressing made with yogurt. To the yogurt, add lemon juice, salt, pepper and finely grated onion (pulp and juice) to taste. This dressing is good with mixed greens, sliced tomatoes and drained canned snap beans.

Cutting out biscuits? Be sure to flour the cutter each time you use it. And don't twist the cutter if you want your biscuits to look their best; use the cutter "straight on" and pull it straight up when you remove it.

Mrs. Merritt Is Hostess To Church Society

Mrs. Ted Merritt was hostess to members of the Ladies Aid Society of First Christian Church, Tuesday evening for the regular monthly meeting.

Mrs. Merritt, president, called the meeting to order and Mrs. Robert Wilson led in the devotion using as her topic "The Life of Christ" and included Scripture reading from the Books of John and Matthew, also an article entitled "Why Evangelize" and closed with prayer.

Eighteen members responded to roll call, and the reports of all standing committees were heard and approved.

It was decided by the society to promote a missionary program during the month of June, with Miss Ruth Ann Haemey, of the Christian Indian School, Sedonia, Arizona, as the guest speaker.

The missionary project for the month of February was a contribution to this Christian Indian School and the meeting was closed with the Mizpah benediction.

During the social hour refreshments carrying out Washington's Birthday suggestions were served by the hostess and her assistants, Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mrs. Lewis Cummings, Mrs. Simon White, Mrs. Elza Sanderson and Mrs. W. E. Fahr.

Newcomers Club Bridge Group Enjoys Party

Members of a bridge group of the Newcomers Club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Walter Hobbie with Mrs. Fred Domenico as her assisting hostess.

The members made up two tables in the progressive game and at the conclusion of play the awards were presented to Mrs. Alen McClung who was the holder of high score and Mrs. Ralph Cook, second.

During informal visiting the hostesses served light refreshments.

Members present were: Mrs. McClellan, Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Ned Abbott, Mrs. Jack Montgomery, Mrs. Harold Kenyon, Mrs. Robert P. Harris and Mrs. Robert Anderson.

Campfire Girls Hold Meeting

The Towanka Camp Fire Girls held their regular meeting at the home of their leader, Mrs. Robert Woodmansee with the assistant leader, Mrs. Robert Wallace, also present.

The meeting was opened with the repeating of the Trail Seekers Desire, Camp Fire Girls Law and the praying of the Lord's Prayer—followed with the usual reports.

Members worked on the symbol

Mission Circle Holds Meeting At Chinn Home

Mrs. Mary Chinn was hostess to members of the Ann Judson Mission Circle of First Baptist Church at her home Tuesday evening with thirteen members present.

Mrs. Norman D. Renn, one of the advisors of the circle, led in the opening prayer and Mrs. Burdette Johnson, chairman presided over the meeting.

The secretary, Mrs. Ted Yoakum, gave her report, as did the treasurer, Mrs. Howard Ault, Jr., both of which were accepted as read.

The devotions led by Mrs. Burdette Johnson were built around a letter from the late Ann Judson, written October 21, 1812, while in Calcutta, India's missionary asking for help from friends in the United States.

Mrs. Robert Hurtt, program leader, also gave the life history of Ann Judson, which was most interesting and the remainder of the evening was spent in the arranging of programs for the meetings in March, April, May and June. During the social hour, Mrs. Calvin Oty assisted Mrs. Chinn in the serving of delicious refreshments.

DOUBLE-BREADED BOILER COSTUME of pearl gray Italian linen-like silk was designed by Jo Copeland. The blouse is of doubled organdy, a film of dotted dark gray set down so that a rim of the white underneath shows.

Blue Bird Group Enjoys Crafts At Meeting

Eighteen members of the Cherry Blue Birds of Cherry Hill School, met after school, as usual at the school on Tuesday with the leaders, Mrs. Jerry Grundies and Mrs. Harold Allen also present.

The meeting was opened with a singing game, and the roll call was followed with the usual business session.

The children learned to braid in the craft period, under the direction of the leaders, and the meeting was closed with the Friendship Circle.

The small hostess, Cynthia Grundies, served light refreshments.

Dinner Precedes Guild Meeting

The February meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild was held in Fellowship Hall in Grace Methodist Church, and was preceded by a delicious covered dish dinner, with a large number of members present.

The tables were elaborately decorated in a patriotic theme, suggestive of Washington's Birthday.

Mrs. Clarence E. Craig, president, presided over the business session held following the dinner hour which included the usual reports and discussion on projects of the society.

Miss Lulu Binegar, program chairman presented Miss Marian Christopher, who conducted the impressive devotions and also a most interesting talk on the spiritual significance of Lent.

The hostess committee for the meeting was composed of Mrs. C. F. Lucas, chairman, Mrs. Walter Fults, Mrs. Urcell Hays, Mrs. Amanda Kier, Mrs. Malcom Parrett, and Miss Lillian Taylor.

Personals

Mrs. Loren D. Hynes is spending this week in Mt. Holly, New Jersey, where she is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Dray and Lieutenant Dray.

Mrs. Robert Burns and daughter, Lonnie of Columbus, spent Wednesday with Mrs. Burns' parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Farquhar.

Gaye Lynn Flax Is Honored At Birthday Event

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Flax entertained a group of children at a supper party Tuesday evening, and the occasion honored the fifth birthday anniversary of their daughter, Gaye Lynn.

The hours of the party were from five to seven o'clock in the evening and following a round of musical games Gaye Lynn opened her lovely gifts and responded sweetly.

The tempting meal was served at two small tables with places marked with party hats and horns which were favors, and the table at which the honor guest was seated, was centered with the birthday cake decorated in pink and blue topped with five tapers which was served with the dessert course.

Mr. and Mrs. Flax were assisted during the evening by Gaye Lynn's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Pittenger and an aunt, Mrs. Damon Merritt.

Small guests included were: Kerilyn Hopewell, Marty Garringer, Michael Inskeep, Carolyn James, Donny Miller, Roger McCoy, Ronnie Hoskins, Keith Merritt all of this community, Tamson Burris of Sabina, and the honor guest's small brother, Jackie, who will celebrate his first birthday on Thursday, February 23.

Open House Is Planned For The Swengels

The congregation of Grace Methodist Church will entertain at open house for the pastor, Rev. Clinton W. Swengel and his family, on Sunday, February 26 between the hours of four and six o'clock in the afternoon.

The event is in the form of a farewell gesture for Rev. Swengel and his family who leave for Fullerton, California early in March where Rev. Swengel has accepted another pastorate.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Weight-watchers might well use a salad dressing made with yogurt. To the yogurt, add lemon juice salt, pepper and finely grated onion (pulp and juice) to taste. This dressing is good with mixed greens, sliced tomatoes and drained canned snap beans.

Cutting out biscuits? Be sure to flour the cutter each time you use it. And don't twist the cutter if you want your biscuits to look their best; use the cutter "straight on" and pull it straight up when you remove it.

Mrs. Merritt Is Hostess To Church Society

Mrs. Ted Merritt was hostess to members of the Ladies Aid Society of First Christian Church, Tuesday evening for the regular monthly meeting.

Mrs. Merritt, president, called the meeting to order and Mrs. Robert Wilson led in the devotions using as her topic "The Life of Christ" and included Scripture reading from the Books of John and Matthew, also an article entitled "Why Evangelize" and closed with prayer.

Eighteen members responded to roll call, and the reports of all standing committees were heard and approved.

It was decided by the society to promote a missionary program during the month of June, with Miss Ruth Ann Haemey, of the Christian Indian School, Sedonia, Arizona, as the guest speaker.

The missionary project for the month of February was a contribution to this Christian Indian School and the meeting was closed with the Mizpah benediction.

During the social hour refreshments carrying out Washington's Birthday suggestions were served by the hostess and her assistants, Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mrs. Lewis Cummings, Mrs. Simon White, Mrs. Elza Sanderson and Mrs. W. E. Fahr.

Newcomers Club Bridge Group Enjoys Party

Members of a bridge group of the Newcomers Club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Walter Hobbie with Mrs. Fred Domenico as her assisting hostess.

The members made up two tables in the progressive game and at the conclusion of play the awards were presented to Mrs. Allen McClung who was the holder of high score and Mrs. Ralph Cook, second.

During informal visiting the hostesses served light refreshments.

Members present were: Mrs. McClung, Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Ned Abbott, Mrs. Jack Montgomery, Mrs. Harold Kenyon, Mrs. Robert P. Harris and Mrs. Robert Anderson.

Campfire Girls Hold Meeting

The Towanka Camp Fire Girls held their regular meeting at the home of their leader, Mrs. Robert Woodmansee with the assistant leader, Mrs. Robert Wallace, also present.

The meeting was opened with the repeating of the Trail Seekers Desire, Camp Fire Girls Law and the praying of the Lord's Prayer—followed with the usual reports.

Members worked on the symbol

MEAL PREPARATION TIME CUT 75%
Says U.S. Dept. of Agriculture by using frozen foods

Here's good news for all homemakers! Government home economists have just revealed that it takes only one-fourth the time to arrange a meal by using prepared frozen foods. This is because frozen foods are ready to cook; you can prepare complete meals in minutes instead of hours.

You, too, will be pleased with the convenience and economy of having a locker filled with delicious frozen foods... ready to cook and serve. And you can rent a zero locker holding over 200 pounds of meats, poultry, fish, fruits, and vegetables for the cost of a daily paper.

Minimum Wage Increase Is Effective on March 1

On March 1 the minimum wage goes up from 75 cents to $1 an hour for workers of all ages under a recent amendment to the Fair Labor Standards Act.

But the act, set up under the federal government's power to regulate interstate commerce may not have much effect here.

Most workers in this area—and the Midwest in general—are already receiving the new $1 minimum.

Those who are not may not be eligible to receive the boost.

The new minimum wage level is the result of a battle between legislators that involved more than 50 bills submitted to the national legislature before the new amendment was passed.

The amendment is a compromise, between the 90-cent minimum proposed by President Eisenhower and the $1.25 per hour proposed by organized labor.

The wage-hour law affects those producing goods for trade between states, or actually taking part in such trades.

FARM WORKERS, store clerks, gas station operators and others involved in work within the state are exempt from the minimum wage.

The wage is based on a 40-hour week, with time and one-half required for all time spent working beyond the 40 hours.

Specific exemptions for farm workers listed in publications by the United States Department of Labor mention farm workers "who cultivate the soil or grow or harvest crops or who raise livestock, bees, fur-bearing animals or poultry."

Which means farmers in general. There are important exceptions to this.

Farm workers are exempt only if they are working on their employers' products. They are not exempt if they handle other products grown by other farmers.

Others exempt from the minimum include those who work "in the area of production" of farm products. That includes people who handle, pack, or can farm products.

THE LAW states that workers are exempt from the overtime part of the law if they are engaged in first-processing, canning or packing fresh fruits or vegetables, slaughtering, handling or dressing livestock or first-processing "within the area or production" any agricultural product during seasonal operations.

Numerous Fayette County workers who work outside the county in industrial jobs will not be affected by the law because wage levels, pushed up by competition for workers between employers and pressure from labor unions, are generally above the $1 minimum now in most manufacturing plants.

Economists point out that less than five percent of workers in the Midwest are making less than the $1 minimum.

The Labor Department's division of wage and hour public contracts will be checking with employers here to see that the new regulations are complied with.

Representatives of the division from either Columbus or Cincinnati will be making the checks.

Under the law, employers are required to maintain proper records. The investigators make unannounced visits to make checks and investigate complaints.

Representatives of the division explain that, since most employers are honest individuals, the investigations are a protection against unintended violations and may avoid piling up a big back wage bill.

Investigators who do find violations are almost always able to get a voluntary change to meet with standards set by law.

On a nation-wide level, it is the Western part of the U. S. which will be most affected by the new law. In the south, nearly 30 percent of the workers are making less than the $1 minimum.

Which means that the economy there will change to some degree as a result of the new law.

The most important affect the new wage level may have here is along the lines of increased prices, claiming higher costs.

(City School Superintendent)

On Tuesday afternoon the fourth graders at Sunnyside School presented a play written by one of their classmates. Third graders were also invited to see the play.

The play—"The Valentine Party"—consisted of two acts. The script was written by Bobby Keller, a fourth grader. The play portrayed a typical day at school which was very realistic to the group watching the play. The play opened with "Morning Exercises" which consisted of the salute to the flag, and the reading of a story.

Next the attendance girl came in with her attendance sheet for the teachers to mark any one absent. Also the attendance girl brought with her a mitten that had been lost, which was held up for the owner to claim. (Many things are lost at school and that is one way for the owner to find his or her lost article.)

Next geography, spelling, and arithmetic were taught. Next in the play a funny incident really did happen. Steven Anders, one of the characters, forgot the poem he was to read. He kept reading through the books and couldn't find his poem. This was not meant to be in the play but the incident made the play just that much more realistic.

Next in the play a geography test was given and then the Valentine box was opened just like a regular day at school. A poem made up by Mary Kilgore was used to open the play and close it.

Last on the program was the singing of the song, "The Valentine Recipe," by members of the cast and all of the fourth grade.

The cast of characters and stage hands or helpers are as follows: Teacher—Penny Palmer. Pupil—Donna Schneider. Pupil—John Wood. Pupil—Steven Anders. Attendance Girl—Patty Seymour.

Announcer—Bobby Keller. Director—Richard Riegel. Setting—Bobby Keller, Miss Baughn.

Lighting—Vicky James. Sign Holder—Mary Kilgore. Curtains—Billy Naylor, Susan Reno.

Music—Dan Clift. Dan accompanied at the piano for the singing of their song—"The Valentine Recipe."

Ohio Official Asks Tax On Weight, Mile

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert L. Moulton, chairman of the Ohio Public Utilities Commission, told the House Ways and Means Committee Tuesday that a proposed new tax on tires and fuel to help finance highway construction was not fair to the motorist.

Moulton testified that studies have been made which indicate that trucks and other commercial vehicles are responsible for a large percentage of the maintainance cost of highways.

Said Moulton: "Tax equality in the highway field cannot be achieved unless there is a graduated levy on the heavier vehicles—related to weight and distance."

Moulton said such a tax system has been adopted in Ohio and "works out well."

The committee is studying a bill introduced by Rep. Boggs (D-La.) that would finance a proposed 40,000-mile superhighway system by a one-cent increase in the tax on gasoline and diesel fuel, three cents a pound more in tire taxes, and a new tax of three cents a pound on retread rubber.

Moulton said a passenger car on that basis pays twice as much tax as a 15,000-pound truck and three times as much as a 55,000-pound truck.

Plenty of Space Is Needed By Vehicles

"Automobiles, like their drivers, need plenty of space for safety," says a statement issued by the Fayette County Automobile Club.

"Bumper-to-bumper travel on a fast highway is as dangerous as cheek-to-cheek in the driver's seat," the statement says.

"A car should always have enough space in front to stop safely if the automobile ahead does the unexpected."

"One good rule of the highway is to add one car length for every 10 miles of speed. That means cars traveling 30 miles an hour should be at least three lengths apart, those going 60 miles should have six car lengths or more between them."

As travel on all streets and highways becomes more congested signals for stops and changes of direction become ever more important.

"Never forget to give the driver behind you the same signal you expect from the driver ahead."

"ITS SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

Game for Title Ahead of Lions

Scheduled To End At Greenfield Friday

The Lions cagers of Washington C. H. High School today were getting ready for the final game on their schedule and the most crucial game of the season at Greenfield Friday night.

If they can win this one, they can wrap up the South Central Ohio League basketball championship.

If they lose it, they will have to share the throne with Wilmington's Hurricane, the defending champion.

As they approach the final game, the Lions have a record of 14 victories and only three defeats. They have won 10 in a row.

Greenfield's Tigers, distinctly the underdogs in this game, have won only six of their 17 games this season and their only victory in the SCO was a 57 to 51 upset of Circleville's Tigers.

The Lions swamped the Tigers, 60 to 41, when the two teams met here on Jan. 6.

A clincher was put on at least a share of the SCO title by the Lions Feb. 14 when they beat the Hurricane here by a score of 80 to 75. That was the second league defeat for the Wilmington outfit; the other was at the hands of Circleville's Tigers. The Hurricane smothered the Lions, 83 to 63, when they met earlier in the season.

And that was the game that eased the Hurricane off the top spot in the SCO as the Washington C. H. boys moved up there for the first time this season.

Two other SCO League teams will be playing the last games on their schedules Friday night: Logan's cagers will be at Circleville to ring down the curtain on the Tiger slate and Hillsboro's Indians will be playing their finale at Fairview.

The Hurricane wound up its season Tuesday night with an 80 to 62 defeat at the hands of the boys from Cincinnati Norwood at Wilmington.

Cage Tourney Invitation Is Put Out Here

There have been no independent basketball teams in Washington C. H. or Fayette County this season—but, if a bunch of cagers want to get together and form one, they can have some fun (and possibly some cash) playing in a tournament that is to be staged at Wilmington in two or three weeks.

A sort of blanket invitation was extended by Gabe Carter of Wilmington Wednesday morning and it was his suggestion that, if there are no teams organized here, one or more be formed for the tournament.

Carter, apparently the headman of the budding tournament, said a meeting to talk over the tournament and work out the details is to be held at his Gabe's Sport Center in Wilmington at 7:30 P. M. Thursday. High on the agenda, he said, were questions concerning the date for the tournament and the amount of the entry fees and awards—in cash. He said the tournament probably would start the second of third week of March.

Carter said between 10 and 16 teams were expected to enter the tournament and that they probably would come from Chillicothe, Greenfield, Hillsboro, Wilmington and Dayton and even possibly from as far away as Kentucky.

The tournament is to be held at the Air Force Base just outside of Wilmington, Carter said.

If anyone in Washington C. H. or Fayette County is interested in putting together a team to play in the tournament, Carter said he should be at the Thursday night meeting.

Speed Sale Opens

DELAWARE (P)—The ninth annual Spring Speed Sale of standard-bred horses opened here yesterday.

Ben Woods, Hopkinsville, Ky., bid the top price of $10,000 for three-year-old pacer Davey Purdue at the opening session in which 93 horses were sold for $74,515.

Third Tourney Round Thursday

Wayne, Bulldogs In Losers Match

The varsity squads of Bloomingburg and Good Hope High Schools will meet 8 P. M. Thursday night in a losers round in the double-elimination Fayette County Basketball League tournament.

The first game Thursday evening will match the Junior teams of Good Hope and Bloomingburg for the Junior championship.

Saturday night the tournament will continue with the Reserve championship game between Good Hope and Jeffersonville Reserve squads at 7 o'clock.

Jeffersonville's Tiger Varsity will meet the Varsity winners of the Thursday night game at 8 P. M. Saturday night to decide the championship.

Since this is a double-elimination tournament, if Jeffersonville is defeated Saturday night—no matter which team the Tigers play—the two squads will meet again Monday evening in a final match.

Championship trophies will be awarded after the final game, Saturday or Monday night, according to the tournament manager, Supt. G. H. Biddle of the Bloomingburg School.

Machen Booked Against Cuban

Game for Title Ahead of Lions

Scheduled To End At Greenfield Friday

The Lions cagers of Washington C. H. High School today were getting ready for the final game on their schedule and the most crucial game of the season at Greenfield Friday night.

If they can win this one, they can wrap up the South Central Ohio League basketball championship.

If they lose it, they will have to share the throne with Wilmington's Hurricane, the defending champion.

As they approach the final game, the Lions have a record of 14 victories and only three defeats. They have won 10 in a row.

Greenfield's Tigers, distinctly the underdogs in this game, have won only six of their 17 games this season and their only victory in the SCO was a 57 to 51 upset of Circleville's Tigers.

The Lions swamped the Tigers, 60 to 41, when the two teams met here on Jan. 6.

A clincher was put on at least a share of the SCO title by the Lions Feb. 14 when they beat the Hurricane here by a score of 80 to 75. That was the second league defeat for the Wilmington outfit; the other was at the hands of Circleville's Tigers.

The Hurricane smothered the Lions, 83 to 63, when they met earlier in the season.

And that was the game that eased the Hurricane off the top spot in the SCO as the Washington C. H. boys moved up there for the first time this season.

Two other SCO League teams will be playing the last games on their schedules Friday night: Logan's cagers will be at Circleville to ring down the curtain on the Tiger slate and Hillsboro's Indians will be playing their finale at Fairview.

The Hurricane wound up its season Tuesday night with an 80 to 62 defeat at the hands of the boys from Cincinnati Norwood at Wilmington.

Cage Tourney Invitation Is Put Out Here

There have been no independent basketball teams in Washington C. H. or Fayette County this season—but, if a bunch of cagers want to get together and form one, they can have some fun (and possibly some cash) playing in a tournament that is to be staged at Wilmington in two or three weeks.

A sort of blanket invitation was extended by Gabe Carter of Wilmington Wednesday morning and it was his suggestion that, if there are no teams organized here, one or more be formed for the tournament.

Carter, apparently the headman of the budding tournament, said a meeting to talk over the details is to be held at his Gabe's Sport Center in Wilmington at 7:30 P. M. Thursday. High on the agenda, he said, were questions concerning the date for the tournament and the amount of the entry fees and awards—in cash. He said the tournament probably would start the second of third week of March.

Carter said between 10 and 16 teams were expected to enter the tournament and that they probably would come from Chillicothe, Greenfield, Hillsboro, Wilmington and Dayton and even possibly from as far away as Kentucky.

The tournament is to be held at the Air Force Base just outside of Wilmington, Carter said.

If anyone in Washington C. H. or Fayette County is interested in putting together a team to play in the tournament, Carter said he should be at the Thursday night meeting.

Speed Sale Opens

DELAWARE SP—The ninth annual Spring Speed Sale of standardbred horses opened here yesterday.

Ben Woods, Hopkinsville, Ky., bid the top price of $10,000 for three-year-old pacer Davey Purdue at the opening session in which 93 horses were sold for $74,515.

Third Tourney Round Thursday

Wayne, Bulldogs In Losers Match

The varsity squads of Bloomingburg and Good Hope High Schools will meet 8 P. M. Thursday night in a losers round in the double-elimination Fayette County Basketball League tournament.

The first game Thursday evening will match the Junior teams of Good Hope and Bloomingburg for the Junior championship.

Saturday night the tournament will continue with the Reserve championship game between Good Hope and Jeffersonville Reserve squads at 7 o'clock.

Jeffersonville's Tiger Varsity will meet the Varsity winners of the Thursday night game at 8 P. M. Saturday night to decide the championship.

Since this is a double-elimination tournament, if Jeffersonville is defeated Saturday night—no matter which team the Tigers play—the two squads will meet again Monday evening in a final match.

Championship trophies will be awarded after the final game, Saturday or Monday night, according to the tournament manager, Supt. G. H. Biddle of the Bloomingburg School.

Machen Booked Against Cuban

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Heavyweight Eddie Machen, the Bay area's heavyweight hope who is undefeated in 11 professional starts, meets Julio Mederos of Havana tonight.

It will be Machen's first televised bout and the first fight in San Francisco's newest boxing palace, promoter Bennie Ford's San Francisco Garden.

Ten of Machen's 11 wins were by knockouts, one of which was over Howard King of Reno, who went 10 rounds but lost a decision to light heavyweight champ Archie Moore here Monday night.

Rhode Islander Sets Scoring Mark

WATERVILLE, Maine (AP)—Ron Marozzi of Rhode Island connected on his first five free throw attempts before missing last night to set a major college basketball record of 35 straight.

Rhode Island, hitting on 25 of 32 foul shots as a team, defeated Colby 83-61.

The previous record for consecutive free throw conversions was 33, set by Kansas State's Howard Shannon in 1947-48.

Dr. Middlecoff Favored In Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—Cary Middlecoff, the golfer most frequently picked to win the Houston Open, will be the favorite again when the 72-hole, $30,000 event starts Thursday. In two days, the former Mem-

More Comfort Wearing FALSE TEETH

Here is a pleasant way to overcome loose plate discomfort. FASTEETH, an improved powder, sprinkled on upper and lower plates holds them firmer so that they feel more comfortable. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at any drug counter.

Stock Car Racers Seeking Records

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Finally favored with smooth sands on the ocean beach, National Assn. for Stock Car Automobile Racing drivers tout after new records for speed.

Warmup times yesterday indicated there will be some new marks after today's heavy program of trials for U. S. stock passenger cars, and U. S. and European sports cars.

With the benefit of a tailwind, Herb Thomas of Sanford, N. C., drove a 1956 powerpack Chevrolet 136.62 mph. It has a Corvette V8 engine, four-barrel carburetors.

Ex-Xavier Greats Named Grid Aides

CINCINNATI (AP)—Xavier University today named two former standout Musketeeer football players to assistant coaching posts.

Head football Coach Harry Connolly said Bob Finnell will serve as line coach and George Gilmarin will coach the backfield.

Finnell has been freshman football and basketball coach at Xavier. In his new berth, he replaced Bill Smyth, who resigned to take a post with Ottawa of the Canadian professional league.

Gilmartin, a teammate of Finnell on the 1949-50-51 Xavier teams, succeeds Ed Doherty who moved to the Philadelphia Eagles as backfield coach.

1954 BUICK V8 Riviera Hard top Coupe. Clean as a pin inside and out. Equipment includes power steering, power brakes, power windows, power seat, radio, heater white tires, wheel discs, and leather trim. You'll not find a sharper used car anywhere.

1954 OLDSMOBILE Convertible Coupe. Everything on this fine car is in like-new condition. Every option available is on it. Has been locally owned and serviced. Tires are brand new. Far superior to many new cars. Drive this one and you'll agree.

1953 PONTIAC Chieftain 4 door Sedan. As quiet as a whisper with its big 8 cylinder engine, hydramatic transmission, and sturdy, comfortable body. Good condition throughout as a well-cared-for, one-owner car should be.

1953 PLYMOUTH 4 door Sedan. We can give you an extra good buy on this car. Much service for few dollars.

1953 CHEVROLET Bel Air Hard top Coupe. Priced at book value but far above average in every way.
With its compact body style, power glide transmission, radio, good heating system, new white tires, and fine appearance it will make an ideal car for the lady drivers. Call us for a trial of this one.

1952 FORD V 8 Custom 2 door. We have just installed a brand new Ford exchange engine in this car. You'll have to break it in after you buy it.
Previous owner had a freeze-up so his bad luck will be to the benefit of the next owner. Body and equipment in good condition.

1952 CHEVROLET Bel Air Coupe. Tu-tone paint, power glide transmission, radio, heater, solid seat covers. One local owner. Low mileage. This is the popular body style and is far above average. Look this one over for sure.

1952 KAISER Manhattan 4 door Sedan. This is not a valuable make but it is in nice condition and you can buy an up-to-date body style for a low, low, price.
Well equipped including hydramatic.

1952 OLDSMOBILE Super "88" 4 door Sedan. Radio, heater, hydramatic. Tops in performance and handling qualities. For a real deal on a better riding, higher performance car, trade for this one.

1951 STUDEBAKER Commander V 8 4 door Sedan.
Tires, body, engine, and paint are in excellent condition. Interior is clean. Overdrive for extra economy and performance.

1951 MERCURY 4 door Sport Sedan. Has radio and heater. Runs nice.

1951 DODGE 4 door Sedan. Clean one-owner car.
Interior and body very nice. Radio and heater. Service, comfort, and safety can be bought in this one at a low price.

1951 CHEVROLET 4 door Fleetline Sedan. The sleek slant back body type. Motor just overhauled including rings, pins, valve grind, bearings. Here you can buy a lower priced used car with assurance.

1951 CHEVROLET Deluxe 2 door Sedan. Very good and clean throughout. Good tires, radio, heater, seat covers, clock visor, Tu-tone finish gives nice appearance.

1950 CHEVROLET Deluxe 4 door Sedan. If you want an older car in nice condition, try this one. Good tires, heater, seat covers, power glide transmission.
No radio.

1950 WILLYS Station Wagon. A real useful gadget.
Runs like a clock, has five good tires, dent-free body, overdrive, heater.

1950 OLDSMOBILE "88" 4 door Sedan. A Rocket engine with hydramatic, in the low price range.
Radio, heater, good tires. Body is nice inside and out.

1949 FORD 2 door Sedan. You wouldn't be ashamed to show this little car to your family; it looks very nice and runs good.

1949 HUDSON Commodore 8 Club Coupe. This car needs paint but is OK otherwise and is for sale cheap.

1949 CHEVROLET 4 door Sedan. A common old car that runs right good.

1949 FORD Club Coupe. Radio and heater, nice interior, good tires, overdrive.

1948 PONTIAC Convertible Coupe. Runs very good.
Has white tires, radio, and heater.

1948 PLYMOUTH 4 door Sedan. Body in real nice condition with good black paint, good tires.

1946 NASH 4 door. For $100.00 you can't buy more transportation. Looks OK, has tires, starts good, and runs.

DON'S USED CARS

1954 BUICK V8 Riviera Hard top Coupe. Clean as a pin inside and out. Equipment includes power steering, power brakes, power windows, power seat, radio, heater white tires, wheel discs, and leather trim. You'll not find a sharper used car anywhere.

1954 OLDSMOBILE Convertible Coupe. Everything on this fine car is in like-new condition. Every option available is on it. Has been locally owned and serviced. Tires are brand new. Far superior to many new cars. Drive this one and you'll agree.

1953 PONTIAC Chieftain 4 door Sedan. As quiet as a whisper with its big 8 cylinder engine, hydramatic transmission, and sturdy, comfortable body. Good condition throughout as a well-cared-for, one-owner car should be.

1953 PLYMOUTH 4 door Sedan. We can give you an extra good buy on this car. Much service for few dollars.

1953 CHEVROLET Bel Aire Hard top Coupe. Priced at book value but far above average in every way. With its compact body style, power glide transmission, radio, good heating system, new white tires, and fine appearance it will make an ideal car for the lady drivers. Call us for a trial of this one.

1952 FORD V 8 Custom 2 door. We have just installed a brand new Ford exchange engine in this car. You'll have to break it in after you buy it. Previous owner had a freeze-up so his bad luck will be to the benefit of the next owner. Body and equipment in good condition.

1952 CHEVROLET Bel Aire Coupe. Tu-tone paint, power glide transmission, radio, heater, solid seat covers. One local owner. Low mileage. This is the popular body style and is far above average. Look this one over for sure.

1952 KAISER Manhattan 4 door Sedan. This is not a valuable make but it is in nice condition and you can buy an up-to-date body style for a low, low, price. Well equipped including hydramatic.

1952 OLDSMOBILE Super "88" 4 door Sedan. Radio, heater, hydramatic. Tops in performance and handling qualities. For a real deal on a better riding, higher performance car, trade for this one.

1951 STUDEBAKER Commander V 8 4 door Sedan. Tires, body, engine, and paint are in excellent condition. Interior is clean. Overdrive for extra economy and performance.

1951 MERCURY 4 door Sport Sedan. Has radio and heater. Runs nice.

1951 DODGE 4 door Sedan. Clean one-owner car. Interior and body very nice. Radio and heater. Service, comfort, and safety can be bought in this one at a low price.

1951 CHEVROLET 4 door Fleetline Sedan. The sleek slant back body type. Motor just overhauled including rings, pins, valve grind, bearings. Here you can buy a lower priced used car with assurance.

1951 CHEVROLET Deluxe 2 door Sedan. Very good and clean throughout. Good tires, radio, heater, seat covers, clock visor. Tu-tone finish gives nice appearance.

1950 CHEVROLET Deluxe 4 door Sedan. If you want an older car in nice condition, try this one. Good tires, heater, seat covers, power glide transmission. No radio.

1950 WILLYS Station Wagon. A real useful gadget. Runs like a clock, has five good tires, dent-free body, overdrive, heater.

1950 OLDSMOBILE "88" 4 door Sedan. A Rocket engine with hydramatic, in the low price range. Radio, heater, good tires. Body is nice inside and out.

1949 FORD 2 door Sedan. You wouldn't be ashamed to show this little car to your family; it looks very nice and runs good.

1949 HUDSON Commodore 8 Club Coupe. This car needs paint but is OK otherwise and is for sale cheap.

1949 CHEVROLET 4 door Sedan. A common old car that runs right good.

1949 FORD Club Coupe. Radio and heater, nice interior, good tires, overdrive.

1948 PONTIAC Convertible Coupe. Runs very good. Has white tires, radio, and heater.

1948 PLYMOUTH 4 door Sedan. Body in real nice condition with good black paint, good tires.

1946 NASH 4 door. For $100.00 you can't buy more transportation. Looks OK, has tires, starts good, and runs.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it: AXYDLBAAXR IS LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

East Side PTA Sale Is Silent

'White Elephant'
Auction Hits $62.

A "silent auction" white elephant sale netted the Eastside Parent Teacher Association approximately $62 Tuesday night at a meeting of that group at the Eastside school.

Bids on the volunteered objects were made secretly on a piece of paper, with the highest bid taking the "white elephant."

Robert Neuman, whose vocal solos were scheduled as feature of the evening, was unable to attend. He had laryngitis.

Mrs. James Rose read an article from Family Circle magazine entitled "The Teacher and the Family." The article stated that teachers should be accepted as members of the community, neighbors and friends, not as persons apart from the community.

The PTA unit's project committee voted to buy two new record players and an attendance banner for the school.

The third grade of Mrs. Dewey Sommers was awarded the attendance banner for having the largest number of parents present at this meeting. About 60 persons attended.

John Bailey, PTA president, conducted the meeting. He appointed a nominating committee chaired by Mrs. Walter Haines and with Mrs. Robert Wolfstrom, Mrs. Ross Higier and Mrs. Ruth Hopkins as members.

It was announced that the recently-organized new den of Cub Pack 20 is in need of more boys. Mrs. Walter Haines and Mrs. Earl Mahoney, den mothers, will handle new members.

Volunteers were asked to aid in the school census sponsored by the PTA Council. Proceeds will go to scholarship fund.

Discussion was held on the operation of the school census. More volunteers are necessary, Bailey reported.

John A. Dick Dies Tuesday Afternoon

John A. Dick, 93, of Jeffersonville, died 2 P. M. Tuesday at the Hurles Rest Home in Washington C. H. where he had been a patient for the past three weeks.

A former railroad construction worker, it is said that he helped construct the first railroad in Missouri and served as construction foreman in Central America as a young man.

He came to Jeffersonville in 1930 and for several years operated a restaurant there. For the past few years he has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Shafer of Jeffersonville.

There are no known immediate relatives surviving. Funeral services will be held 2 P. M. Thursday at the Alvin G. Little Funeral Home in Jeffersonville with Rev. Glenn Williams of Pleasant View, pastor of the House of Prayer in Sabina conducting services. Burial will be in the Jeffersonville Fairview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

Auto Hits Truck Parked on Highway

Erza Jack Short, 45, Big Prairie, escaped serious injury at 9:30 P. M. Tuesday, when his automobile crashed into the rear of a truck parked on Route 35 near the Fayette-Ross County line and was badly damaged.

Deputy Sheriff Robert McArthur, who investigated, reported that Short had skidded about 90 feet before hitting the truck, which had halted by reason of motor trouble. The driver, James William Brame, of Dayton, had placed a flashing red light on the highway 100 feet back of the truck shortly before the accident, he reported to McArthur.

No arrests were made.

Benjamin Franklin retired a rich man at age 42.

Mrs. Griffith Dies In Hospital Here

Mrs. Mary Alice Griffith, 85, who came here last September to make her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. Lewis R. Roberts, died in Memorial Hospital at 3:25 P. M. Tuesday.

Mrs. Griffith had been in failing health for the last eight years, but her condition had been considered serious for only the last two months. She entered the hospital 12 days ago.

Mrs. Griffith had headed the relief program for the Christian Holiness Church in the hill country of Athens, Morgan and Washington counties for many years until eight years ago, when she went to make her home with Rev. and Mrs. Roberts in Springfield. Then when they moved to Washington C. H. at 615 Eastern Avenue last September, Mrs. Griffith came here with them.

Like her son-in-law and daughter, Mrs. Griffith was very active in the Pilgrim Holiness Church on Rose Avenue here as long as her health permitted.

Besides Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Griffith leaves another daughter, Miss Minnie Gertrude Griffith of Columbus; a son, James E. Griffith; a brother, Evan Frame of Athens; a sister, Mrs. P. C. Adams of Ashland; nine grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. Her husband, James H. Griffith, died in 1936.

Funeral services are to be held at the Pilgrim Holiness Church on Rose Avenue at 2 P. M. Friday with Rev. R. T. Powell, pastor of the Pilgrim Holiness Church at West Carrollton, in charge. Interment is to be in the Sunset Memorial Cemetery in Franklin County.

Friends may call at the Gerstner Funeral Home after noon Thursday.

Applause Won By Boys' Choir

Third Appearance
Of Group Here

A fair-sized audience turned out Tuesday night for the third appearance here of the Dayton Boys' Choir, in a concert held in the Washington C. H. High School auditorium under Rotary Club sponsorship.

Net proceeds of the concert are to go to the Rotary Youth fund, one of the sources of Little League support here.

The program, complete with costume changes and musical changes of pace, ranged in mood from moving and sober classical religious music to rollicking, just-for-fun comedy.

Dressed in standard choir-boy gowns, the group opened with Mozart's "Gloria," from the 12th Mass and "Jesu, word of God incarnate." Continuing with the religious theme, they sang "Since by Man Came Death" from Handel's "Messiah."

"All in the April Evening" treble ensemble by Roberts, "Worship the King" by Hayden, "The Lord's Prayer" as arranged by Gates and Shaw's "With a Voice of Singing" closed the religious part of the program.

Breaking the spiritual mood, piano accompanist George Zimmerman and four of the boys did a take-off grand opera entitled "An Extract of Grand Opera."

With a change of costume the nearly 70 boys moved into a pair of full-sized vaudeville routines, "Alabama Jubilee" and "How Ya Gonna Keep 'em Down on the Farm."

The boys recostumed and sang three songs in Fred Waring style, "Bushel and a Peck," "Sylvia" and "Happy Wanderer."

Michael Heintz, one of the Choir members gave a piano solo.

The group ended with a full-scale extravaganza number, the "Brooklyn Baseball Cantata," complete with Dayton-grown New York accents.

The choir, under the direction of Norman Park, traveled to Washington C. H. from Dayton in two chartered busses.

Prisoner Is Taken To The Workhouse

Police Chief Valden Long took John Provost to the Cincinnati Workhouse Tuesday afternoon to serve out a fine of $10 and costs and 30 days in the institution. The penalty was levied against him by Judge Max G. Dice on a drunk and disorderly charge.

Provost had been in court before, police said.

While at the workhouse Chief Long was informed that during the previous three days, the Cincinnati courts had sent 135 prisoners to the workhouse and that many of the inmates were being worked on the streets and in the parks of the city.

Concord FB Council Holds 2 Elections

Frank Sollars was elected the legislative representative of the Concord Township Farm Bureau Council at Tuesday's council meeting, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sollars.

Held after a covered dish supper for the 26 members present, the election also placed Mrs. Sam Marting, Sr. on the 20th anniversary committee of the council.

Other action brought Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mark and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Marting, Jr., into the council as members.

The discussion was an attempt to answer the question, "How Can Co-operatives Help Break the Price-Cost Squeeze?"

The discussion brought out that the way co-operatives are organized can help the farmer in a "squeeze." Principles of the co-op are (1) democratic control, (2) distribution of savings in proportion to patronage and (3) limited return on capital.

Robert Case, the discussion leader, used the February issue of the Council Guide for reference.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Marting, Sr.

Maddy, out on Bond, Was Visitor Here

Cecil G. Maddy, 38, of Greenfield, who was freed of first degree murder at Troy, was seen in Washington C. H. by police during the week end, but he is reported to have left in a truck late at night.

After being freed at the conclusion of the murder trial in Troy, Maddy was taken to West Union in Adams County to face two charges: illegal possession of barbiturates and burglary of an automobile agency last March. He was released on bond on the barbiturates charge but the burglary charge against him was dropped by Adams County authorities.

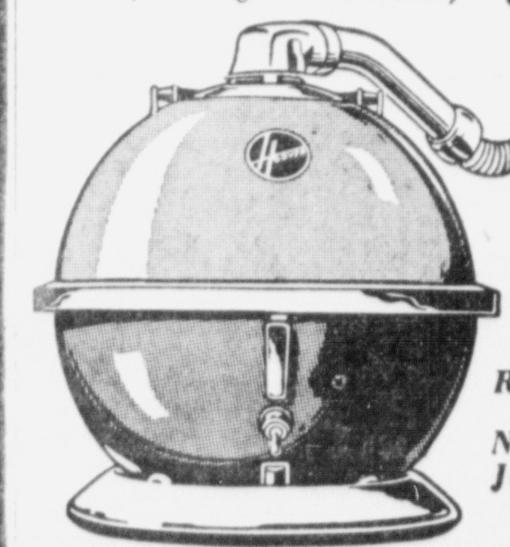

Edward A. McMullen, a companion of Maddy, was found guilty of murder in the trial at Troy.

Ladies' Night At Lions Club

Turkey Dinner Held
In Jeffersonville

It was ladies' night in the Jeffersonville Lions' clubrooms Tuesday night. The Lions, turning the tables on their wives, served them a turkey dinner.

During the business meeting, the Lions agreed to take on the job of canvassing Jeffersonville and the surrounding rural area for the Red Cross. George Combs was appointed chairman of the Jeffersonville drive.

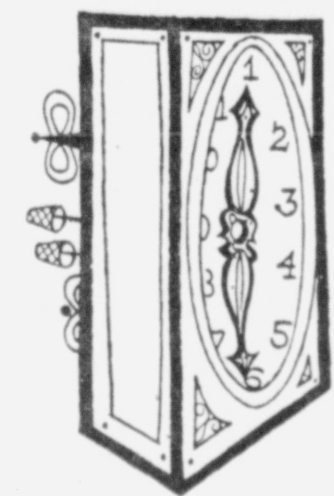

Don Gibson, campaign chairman for the county Red Cross drive was at the meeting to outline plans for the canvass.

Plans for the club's trip to the Hollywood Ice Review at the Cincinnati Gardens were wrapped up. The members and their guests will see the show March 4. Ticket will be available from either President Long or Charles Funk through March 1.

George Combs spoke briefly on the importance of the county Civil Defense organization.

He urged Jeffersonville residents to join CE during the countywide organizational campaign now underway under the leadership of Charles Sexton, county CD director.

Games for the members and their guests were the order of the evening after the meeting broke up.

Vets Here Will Go To Sabina Meeting

Most Fayette County veterans will be out of town Thursday night, taking part in the winter meeting of the Southern Ohio Veterinary Medical Association winter meeting in Sabina.

The place for the meeting rotates, with various cities being used as sites for conferences of the group.

As an unusual touch wives have been invited this time to take part in the dinner and short business meeting. They will hear Dr. Byron Bernard, Cincinnati Zoo veterinarian talk and show films taken during a big game hunt in Africa and observe presentation of a gift to Dr. Scott Rigdon.

Following dinner the women will have a social hour featuring cards, conversation and refreshments at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Smith in Sabina. The hostesses for the social hour are Mrs. R. C. Smith, Mrs. Paul Bernard, Mrs. L. W. Walker and Mrs. W. L. Jones, all of Sabina.

East Side PTA Sale Is Silent

'White Elephant'
Auction Hits $62.

A "silent auction" white elephant sale netted the Eastside Parent Teacher Association approximately $62 Tuesday night at a meeting of that group at the Eastside school.

Bids on the volunteered objects were made secretly on a piece of paper, with the highest bid taking the "white elephant."

Robert Neuman, whose vocal solos were scheduled as feature of the evening, was unable to attend. He had laryngitis.

Mrs. James Rose read an article from Family Circle magazine entitled "The Teacher and the Family." The article stated that teachers should be accepted as members of the community, neighbors and friends, not as persons apart from the community.

The PTA unit's project committee voted to buy two new record players and an attendance banner for the school.

The third grade of Mrs. Dewey Sommers was awarded the attendance banner for having the largest number of parents present at this meeting. About 60 persons attended.

John Bailey, PTA president, conducted the meeting. He appointed a nominating committee chaired by Mrs. Walter Haines and with Mrs. Robert Wolfson, Mrs. Ross Higdon and Mrs. Ruth Hopkins as members.

It was announced that the recently-organized new den of Cub Pack 20 is in need of more boys. Mrs. Walter Haines and Mrs. Bart Mahoney, den mothers, will handle new members.

Volunteers were asked to aid in the school census sponsored by the PTA Council. Proceeds will go to scholarship fund.

Discussion was held on the operation of the school census. More volunteers are necessary, Bailey reported.

John A. Dick Dies Tuesday Afternoon

John A. Dick, 93, of Jeffersonville, died 2 P. M. Tuesday at the Hurler Rest Home in Washington, C. H. where he had been a patient for the past three weeks.

A former railroad construction worker, it is said that he helped construct the first railroad in Missouri and served as construction foreman in Central America as a young man.

He came to Jeffersonville in 1930 and for several years operated a restaurant there. For the past few years he has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Shafer of Jeffersonville.

There are no known immediate relatives surviving.

Funeral services will be held 2 P. M. Thursday at the Alvin G. Little Funeral Home in Jeffersonville with Rev. Glenn Williams of Pleasant View, pastor of the House of Prayer in Sabina conducting services. Burial will be in the Jeffersonville Fairview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

Auto Hits Truck Parked On Highway

Ezra Jack Short, 45, Big Prairie, escaped serious injury at 9:30 P. M. Tuesday, when his automobile crashed into the rear of a truck parked on Route 35 near the Fayette-Ross County line and was badly damaged.

Deputy Sheriff Robert McArthur, who investigated, reported that Short had skidded about 90 feet before hitting the truck, which had halted by reason of motor trouble. The driver, James William Brame, of Dayton, had placed a flashing red light on the highway 100 feet back of the truck shortly before the accident, he reported to McArthur.

No arrests were made.

Benjamin Franklin retired a rich man at age 42.

Mrs. Griffith Dies In Hospital Here

Mrs. Mary Alice Griffith, 85, who came here last September to make her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. Lewis R. Roberts, died in Memorial Hospital at 3:25 P. M. Tuesday.

Mrs. Griffith had been in failing health for the last eight years, but her condition had been considered serious for only the last two months. She entered the hospital 12 days ago.

Mrs. Griffith had headed the relief program for the Christian Holiness Church in the hill country of Athens, Morgan and Washington counties for many years until eight years ago, when she went to make her home with Rev. and Mrs. Roberts in Springfield. Then when they moved to Washington, C. H. at 615 Eastern Avenue last September, Mrs. Griffith came here with them.

Like her son-in-law and daughter, Mrs. Griffith was very active in the Pilgrim Holiness Church on Rose Avenue here as long as her health permitted.

Besides Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Griffith leaves another daughter, Miss Minnie Gertrude Griffith of Columbus; a son, James E. Griffith; a brother, Evan Frame of Athens; a sister, Mrs. P. C. Adams of Ashland; nine grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. Her husband, James H. Griffith, died in 1936.

Funeral services are to be held at the Pilgrim Holiness Church on Rose Avenue at 2 P. M. Friday with Rev. R. T. Powell, pastor of the Pilgrim Holiness Church at West Carrollton, in charge. Interment is to be in the Sunset Memorial Cemetery in Franklin County.

Friends may call at the Gerstner Funeral Home after noon Thursday.

Applause Won By Boys' Choir

Third Appearance
Of Group Here

A fair-sized audience turned out Tuesday night for the third appearance here of the Dayton Boys' Choir, in a concert held in the Washington C. H. High School auditorium under Rotary Club sponsorship.

Net proceeds of the concert are to go to the Rotary Youth fund, one of the sources of Little League support here.

The program, complete with costume changes and musical changes of pace, ranged in mood from moving and sober classical religious music to rollicking, just-for-fun comedy.

Dressed in standard choir-boy gowns, the group opened with Mozart's "Gloria," from the 12th Mass and "Jesu, word of God incarnate." Continuing with the religious theme, they sang "Since by Man Came Death" from Handel's "Messiah."

"All in the April Evening" treble ensemble by Roberts, "Worship the King" by Hayden, "The Lord's Prayer" as arranged by Gates and Shaw's "With a Voice of Singing" closed the religious part of the program.

Breaking the spiritual mood, piano accompanist George Zimmerman and four of the boys did a take-off grand opera entitled "An Extract of Grand Opera."

With a change of costume the nearly 70 boys moved into a pair of full-sized vaudeville routines, "Alabama Jubilee" and "How Ya Gonna Keep 'em Down on the Farm."

The boys recostumed and sang three songs in Fred Waring style, "Bushel and a Peck," "Sylvia" and "Happy Wanderer."

Michael Heintz, one of the Choir members gave a piano solo.

The group ended with a full-scale extravaganza number, the "Brooklyn Baseball Cantata," complete with Dayton-grown New York accents.

The choir, under the direction of Norman Park, traveled to Washington, C. H. from Dayton in two chartered busses.

Prisoner Is Taken To The Workhouse

Police Chief Vaiden Long took John Provost to the Cincinnati Workhouse Tuesday afternoon to serve out a fine of $10 and costs and 30 days in the institution. The penalty was levied against him by Judge Max G. Dice on a drunk and disorderly charge.

Provost had been in court before, police said.

While at the workhouse Chief Long was informed that during the previous three days, the Cincinnati courts had sent 135 prisoners to the workhouse and that many of the inmates were being worked on the streets and in the parks of the city.

Concord FB Council Holds 2 Elections

Frank Sollars was elected the legislative representative of the Concord Township Farm Bureau Council at Tuesday's council meeting, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sollars.

Held after a covered dish supper for the 26 members present, the election also placed Mrs. Sam Marting, Sr. on the 20th anniversary committee of the council.

Other action brought Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mark and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Marting, Jr., into the council as members.

The discussion was an attempt to answer the question, "How Can Co-operatives Help Break the Price-Cost Squeeze?"

The discussion brought out that the way co-operatives are organized can help the farmer in a "squeeze." Principles of the co-op are (1) democratic control, (2) distribution of savings in proportion to patronage and (3) limited return on capital.

Robert Case, the discussion leader, used the February issue of the Council Guide for reference.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Marting, Sr.

Maddy, out on Bond, Was Visitor Here

Cecil G. Maddy, 38, of Greenfield, who was freed of first degree murder at Troy, was seen in Washington, C. H. by police during the week end, but he is reported to have left in a truck late at night.

After being freed at the conclusion of the murder trial in Troy, Maddy was taken to West Union in Adams County to face two charges: illegal possession of barbiturates and burglary of an automobile agency last March. He was released on bond on the barbiturates charge but the burglary charge against him was dropped by Adams County authorities.

Edward A. McMullen, a companion of Maddy, was found guilty of murder in the trial at Troy.

Ladies' Night At Lions Club

Turkey Dinner Held
In Jeffersonville

It was ladies' night in the Jeffersonville Lions' clubrooms Tuesday night. The Lions, turning the tables on their wives, served them a turkey dinner.

During the business meeting, the Lions agreed to take on the job of canvassing Jeffersonville and the surrounding rural area for the Red Cross. George Combs was appointed chairman of the Jeffersonville drive.

Don Gibson, campaign chairman for the county Red Cross drive was at the meeting to outline plans for a canvass.

Plans for the club's trip to the Hollywood Ice Review at the Cincinnati Gardens were wrapped up. The members and their guests will see the show March 4. Ticket will be available from either President Long or Charles Funk through March 1.

George Combs spoke briefly on the importance of the county Civil Defense organization.

He urged Jeffersonville residents to join CE during the countywide organizational campaign now underway under the leadership of Charles Sexton, county CD director.

Games for the members and their guests were the order of the evening after the meeting broke up.

Vets Here Will Go To Sabina Meeting

Most Fayette County veterinarians will be out of town Thursday night, taking part in the winter meeting of the Southern Ohio Veterinary Medical Association winter meeting in Sabina.

The place for the meeting rotates, with various cities being used as sites for conferences of the group.

As an unusual touch wives have been invited this time to take part in the dinner and short business meeting. They will hear Dr. Byron Bernard, Cincinnati Zoo veterinarian talk and show films taken during a big game hunt in Africa and observe presentation of a gift to Dr. Scott Rigdon.

Following dinner the women will have a social hour featuring cards, conversation and refreshments at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Smith in Sabina. The hostesses for the social hour are Mrs. R. C. Smith, Mrs. Paul Bernard, Mrs. L. W. Walker and Mrs. W. L. Jones, all of Sabina.
